PREFACE

Dear ULAB Student,

This Student Handbook contains relevant information concerning academic policies, code of conduct, co-curricular policy, and the latest syllabi. It is important that you read through the Handbook closely. You will find answers to most of the questions that might arise during your academic life at ULAB.

If you need further clarification on any point, please consult your academic advisor, or your Department Coordinator, Program Head, or the Registrar's Office.

I expect you to use the best resources made available to you from ULAB. My very sincere wishes are always with you.

Professor Imran Rahman

Vice Chancellor

NOTICE

This Handbook contains Academic Policies, Code of Conduct, Policy on Co-curricular Activities, Departmental Syllabi, and other information relevant to undergraduate students of the University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh (ULAB). A copy of this Handbook has been provided to each student at the time of his or her admission or registration.

It is the responsibility of each student to be conversant with the rules, regulations, and policies articulated in this Handbook during his/her stay in the University. Ignorance of the rules or any provision in this Handbook will not be acceptable as a justification for any breach of or non-compliance with the rules.

The requirements contained in this Handbook apply to all undergraduate students at ULAB regardless of their department and/or areas of concentration. The requirements of each concentration and the particular offerings of each department are detailed in the respective departmental syllabi.

ULAB authorities reserve the right to make changes to the Handbook as and when needed.

This Handbook is effective from Summer 2021 term.

UNIVERSITY FOUNDATION

Liberal Arts

Originally, a liberal arts education was the body of knowledge considered essential for a free human being. A modern liberal arts education thus gives students the opportunity to explore many areas of knowledge. In the modern world this range of exploration is essential. The essence of liberal arts is that it focuses on breadth of knowledge as well as depth. It stresses communication skills and emphasizes analysis rather than repetition.

ULAB combines a core curriculum with optional courses through which students build a foundation for further education and pursue a wide base of knowledge.

Through the rigorous pursuit of varied topics, therefore, a liberal arts education does not answer that ancient question of what knowledge is required for a free human being. Instead, a liberal arts education gives every student the opportunity to answer that question to his or her own satisfaction.

Guided by the principles of liberal arts, progressive education, sustainable development, active teaching and learning, research, and engaged citizenship, ULAB is, therefore, devoted to developing young minds and firmly committed to helping young people become responsible and caring citizens of their nations and the world.

History

The University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh (ULAB) is a private university in Bangladesh based exclusively on the Liberal Arts educational model. ULAB was formally inaugurated on October 1, 2004.

ULAB's founder, Kazi Shahid Ahmed, believes in creating works that benefit the people of Bangladesh and are of service to the country. He thus created a place of learning where well-rounded students would be steeped in the values of their own heritage, yet trained to face the modern global workplace. Beginning with just 52 students, ULAB now has about 5000 students in its undergraduate and graduate programs.

The purpose-built campus in the heart of Dhanmondi was opened in the Fall of 2006 and the green Main Campus, located in Mohammadpur, Dhaka, became operational in 2019.

Accreditation

The University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh and its curriculum are accredited by the University Grants Commission (UGC) of Bangladesh, and approved by the Ministry of Education, Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh. In addition, the CSE program is accredited by the Board of Accreditation for Engineering and Technical Education (BAETE), and Institution of Engineers (IEB), Bangladesh.

Mission, Values, and Guiding Principles

Mission

The University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh is an institution devoted to developing young minds to their fullest potential through the free and creative pursuit of knowledge. We are firmly committed to helping young men and women to become responsible and caring citizens of their nations and the world.

We fulfill these aims by adopting an array of traditional and innovative academic and extra-curricular programs, and by bringing to our students the best that has been thought and accomplished in the arts and sciences throughout the world.

Values

ULAB's core values are the standards that drive our culture, guide our conduct, and set the minimum expectations for everyone at ULAB:

- Love of Lifelong Learning
- Practicing Integrity and Leadership
- Encouraging Innovation
- Promoting Tolerance
- The Pursuit of Excellence

Guiding Principles

1. Liberal Arts: Providing a broad foundation across disciplines in order to develop analytical abilities and flexibility of mind.
2. Progressive Education: Establishing values of tolerance, empathy and integrity, in order to become citizens of the world.
3. Sustainable Development: Employing sustainable practices and respect for human rights, in order to become responsible leaders of the future.
4. Active Teaching and Learning: Striking a balance between theoretical and practical learning, in order to thrive in a fast-changing knowledge economy.
5. Research: Supporting cross-disciplinary inquiry, in order to inform education and public policies.
6. Engaged Citizenship: Building and serving civic communities, in order to create a free and equitable society.

FACILITIES

Main Campus

ULAB boasts a lush green campus in Mohammadpur, Dhaka. The site is the university's main campus. The expansive field, the new red brick building, the indoor and outdoor sports facilities, the fresh, clean air in the midst of a busy city all provide a congenial environment for a buzzing campus life.

Research Building

ULAB has one 7-storied high-tech building in Dhanmondi for research activities. It is located at House 56, Road 4/A, Satmasjid Road. The building has modern classrooms, a resourceful library, study room, auditorium, activity areas, meeting rooms, and seminar rooms.

Classrooms

All classrooms are fully air-conditioned and contain all modern teaching implements, including high-resolution multimedia projectors. The classrooms fit all class sizes and needs.

Library

There are currently 2 libraries, one in Dhanmondi and the other at the Main Campus in Mohammadpur. ULAB's libraries have a rapidly expanding collection with computerized catalog access, a Group Study Room, and a Reading Room. Most Bangla and English newspapers are available, along with many important national and international journals and magazines. The libraries also have JSTOR access as well as other online publication portals.

See Library section for more details.

Software Labs and Computer Labs

Computer labs are available for classes and for student use. Software labs are for computer science instruction. Internet PCs are available on each campus. Computer facilities include: student email, domain control, and free Wi-Fi and WiMAX internet connections.

Network Lab

The CSE Department has a dedicated Network Lab where students can practice essential networking skills using PCs, LANs, servers and switches.

Internet Things (IoT) lab

As part of the World Bank Project, IoT Lab has been installed at ULAB at the cost of around BDT 4 Crore and implemented by the Bangladesh Hi-Tech Park Authority of ICT Division. ULAB is the First Private University in Bangladesh where this kind of specialized Lab has been implemented. The Lab is well furnished with advanced IoT related equipment. International companies who want to operate in Bangladesh can train local employees using the Lab's e-Learning system.

NLP and Machine Learning Research Lab

The lab is intended to be used for Bangla computational linguistic research and machine learning - a much-needed facility for a Digital Bangladesh. The lab is open to students and teachers.

ACM Competitive Programming Lab

The lab will empower students and teachers to solve problems and conduct programming contests. Students can use this facility to participate in regional and national programming contests.

Media Lab

The iMac Media Lab is equipped with several non-linear editing panels running on fully-licensed iMac computers. The Lab also has multiple professional-quality HDV digital video and still cameras with peripherals, sound and lighting equipment.

A fully-dark screening room is available for dedicated film screenings and film-related class instruction. The Screening Room is equipped with a large screen, a high-resolution multimedia projector, PC, DVD and VCR players and sound equipment.

Analog and Digital System Lab

The Analog-Digital System Lab has various types of hardware equipment available for students conducting lab experiments relevant for Electronics courses. The lab is equipped with all necessary and modern components so that students can get the feel of the analog and digital electronics lessons in a practical setting.

Electrical and Electronic Engineering Labs

The Electrical and Electronic Engineering Labs are available to students for electronics, power system, and telecommunication engineering related courses. Physics Lab, Electrical and Electronic Circuits Lab, Electrical Machines Lab, Power System Lab, Switchgear and Protection Lab, Control System Lab, Computer Simulation and VLSI Lab, Digital Systems Lab, Data Communication, Optical Fiber Communication Lab, Wireless and Mobile Communication Lab and Microwave Communication Lab are well equipped with state of the art apparatus and software tools.

Radio Lab

A professional Radio Lab is open for campus-wide broadcasting by ULAB 'Radio Campbuzz.' As part of the lab, students learn production management, news gathering, script writing, sound manipulation, as well as RJ skills.

MOODLE

Students and highly trained faculty members use the online learning management system MOODLE as a supplement to their courses and for online learning. Course materials are shared, assignments are submitted, or quizzes are taken using MOODLE.

Google Classroom, Google Meet, and Zoom are also used to facilitate online teaching and learning.

ULAB TV

A professional TV Lab is open for campus-wide broadcasting by ULAB TV and run by ULAB students. The programs are recorded, edited, and broadcast by the students.

The English Zone

The Department of English and Humanities runs the 'English Zone' for students. The English Zone is home to the Writing Lab and Conversation Hours. The English Zone helps students from all departments and levels to improve their English writing and speaking skills.

Conversation Hours are times when students come in groups to practice speaking skills with native English speakers.

See The English Zone page for details.

Co-curricular Office

The Co-curricular Office accommodates club activities and ensures smooth operation and communication between club members and club advisors.

Cafeteria and Student Lounge

The Main Campus has a cafeteria and student lounge with fresh food for students' study, relaxation, and adda. The cafeteria has a mezzanine floor and wide glass windows allowing in natural sunlight and offering unparalleled views overlooking the lush green fields beyond.

Lake-view Terrace

The ULAB Research Building boasts a dramatic lake-view terrace outside the Auditorium where students can study and relax.

Multi-Purpose Spaces

ULAB has several multi-purpose spaces which can be used for television/film studio productions, seminars, conferences, exhibits, and large film screenings.

Cricket and Football Playground

ULAB has the only tournament-standard sports field of any private university in Bangladesh, located in Mohammadpur, Dhaka. Since 2006, every year, ULAB has been hosting the Fair Play Cup T-20 Cricket Tournament, where other private universities participate. The ULAB cricketers have also played against Indian and Pakistani cricket teams. An annual inter-university football match is also held on the playground.

Indoor sports facilities are available for a variety of games including table tennis, carom, and chess.

Shuttle Buses

Students and faculty members can shuttle between the ULAB Research Building and the Main Campus using ULAB's AC bus service. These 30-seater comfortable buses can be availed at regular intervals throughout the day.

Counseling Room

The Student Affairs Office (SAO) has counseling facilities that offers full confidentiality to students for private consultations.

Prayer Rooms: Prayer Rooms are available at the Main Campus.

Photocopy Services: Printing and photocopy services are available on Main Campus.

Security: Our facilities have 24-hour security and CCTV cameras. All students, faculty members, and staff are required to wear a valid ID card at all times while on campus.

THE ENGLISH ZONE

Contact: ULAB Research Building, Dhanmondi
Email: khadija.rubaiyat@ulab.edu.bd
Hours: Sunday to Wednesday, 10.00 am to 4.00 pm

The Department of English and Humanities is proud to host the English Zone. Located in ULAB Research Building Office 205, this room provides a special space for students from all departments to come and practice their English skills.

Peer tutors volunteer their time to help students with their writing, reading, and presentation assignments.

Conversation Hours with native speakers are held for students to interact and overcome their shyness in speaking. Peer tutors also provide a congenial atmosphere for students to practice their speaking skills through the use of board games or conversation games.

The English Zone also holds regular workshops on important academic writing skills or specific problem areas in writing or speaking. The atmosphere is fun and relaxed and students can come and go whenever they have time. Join the Facebook page @ULABEnglishZone to remain updated on what's happening at the EZ.

ULAB's Student Affairs Office is the one-stop comprehensive support centre for answers and assistance on a wide range of academic and non-academic issues, as we are committed to YOUR success.

Commitment- We commit to responding to queries within 24 hours except for weekends or public holidays.

1. Well-being Advice, Guidance & Resource

The SAO will cater to the needs of students through referrals and information on where they can get help. The Student Advisors are the SAO are trained and equipped to handle the day to day cases and, when needed refer students to the support they need by connecting them to the organisation that can provide relevant services.

2. Academic Support

The SAO is there to help students who are having difficulty keeping up with their academic endeavours at the University of Liberal Arts, Bangladesh.

a. Peer Mentor Pairing

The peer mentor pairing is a service that SAO provides to help students in need of academic support. This service pairs students with other student peers who can help with assignments, homework or regular class lectures. SAO offers an extensive program of student Advising for all undergraduate students during the first two terms of their first year. The Peer Mentors provide an opportunity to meet (returning) fellow students who also offer transitional, social support, and guide new students to various resources and opportunities that are available on campus. The Mentors can also provide a point of contact and support in those areas of student and campus life where students prefer to seek information and suggestions from fellow students.

b. Academic Guidance for Students on Probationary

Students who are put on probation due to poor academic performance can visit the SAO to be guided through the process of what they need to do to get out of probation and avoid expulsion from the university.

Students are expected to maintain a minimum CGPA 2.0 out of 4.0. If a student on probation fails to raise their CGPA to 2.0 in three consecutive terms, s/he will be dismissed from the university. SAP provides support to the students who need both subject based and general academic advice.

3. Scholarship Advice and Guidance

The SAO has all the information you need to understand how the financial aid and scholarship process work and help students apply for financial assistance.

4. Counselling Service

The SAO offers a professional and confidential student counselling service. The service is set up to support students with any personal issue(s) affecting their academic abilities.

5. Mental Health Advisory Service

Mental health issues can appear at any point in time and although the underlying reasons are different from person to person and affect their ability to engage with their education and academic performance at the university.

6. In a crisis now

a. Victim of Sexual harassment

If you have faced harassment/violence of a sexual nature or know of anyone facing it, please reach out to the SAO or file a complaint with the Sexual Harassment Complain Committee (Email: tabassum.zaman@ulab.edu.bd).

b. Victim of Bullying

If you are being bullied by a peer or faculty or any other member of ULAB please reach out to the SAO or file a complaint with the Proctor's Office.

c. Academic Distress

If you are facing any academic distress and can't reach your faculty or TA, please get in touch with the SAO and we will do our best to put you in touch with someone who can help you study for a test, finish an assignment or put together your presentation.

SAO offers tutorial support to all ULAB students, especially the freshmen and at-risk students – those on academic probation and those retaking specific courses. However, departments have built-in programs where students at risk are identified by their course instructors and assigned specific times for consultations.

d. Emotional Distress

If you are upset about something and need to talk, or you are confused about various events taking place in your life that affect your studies, please get in touch with the Counsellor or the SAO.

e. Physically Unwell

ULAB has a certified doctor on campus and has an infirmary equipped with first aid equipment to cater to injuries before being transferred to a hospital when/if needed.

The ULAB Health & Wellness Center of Student Affairs Office (SAO) is located at Room PC-110 of ULAB Main Campus.

Services:

- Provide emergency and first aid treatment within ULAB Campus.
- Provide routine medical consultations to the stakeholders.
- Help to verify the medical documents of the stakeholders.
- Refer patients to specialised doctors, if necessary.
- Help to evacuate and escort an emergency patient to the nearest hospital(s).
- Conduct a timely health and wellness awareness campaign week on campus.

7. Drop-In

SAO is open five days a week from 9 AM to 5 PM. In addition, the office is available for any student to drop in and get assistance.

SAO Location- Room # PC202, 2nd Floor, Building-C, ULAB Main Campus.

8. Representation at Disciplinary Cases

The students faced with disciplinary hearings will be appointed a representative during the hearings. The SAO representative will help the student through the disciplinary hearing process and provide any extra support the student might need.

9. Campus Support

The SAO has Student Advisors fully equipped with any information the students might need regarding where the office, labs and classroom are. In addition, students can get in touch with the office at any time, physically or via email or phone and get the answers they seek.

10. SAO Events

Events and workshops will be conducted and hosted by the SAO for students throughout their time at ULAB. Stress Management, Time Management, Drug Abuse, Everyday Law and Rights related are some topics that the SAO has focused on in the past.

11. Guardian Relations

Every term SAO arranges a Parents' Meeting for the freshers' parents of ULAB. During the program, parents are informed about the student services and campus resources that support student development at ULAB. The Vice-Chancellor, the Pro-Vice-Chancellor, the Heads of the Departments, and representatives of various offices also respond to the parents' queries. SAO also organises pre-mid and pre-final meetings with the parents of the freshers to create awareness so that students can develop positive study habits and maintain good academic standing. Also, parents of the students who are on probation get opportunities to meet SAO for academic counselling.

ULAB has a dedicated Career Services Office (CSO), which helps students develop soft skills needed for the job market. The Office offers specialized courses and trainings on topics like Career Planning, Leadership, Motivation, Business Communication, and Corporate Grooming, while assisting with internship and job placements. CSO organizes on campus recruitment sessions regularly. It also arranges career fairs that help to bring together industry and students to facilitate the job-search process. At a glance, the CSO is a comprehensive service center designed to meet the career planning, career exploration, job hunting, and post-graduation needs of every ULAB student.

The Office also offers training programs and resources for students to develop appropriate skills and strategies that lead to successful careers, and the means for employers to access qualified, well-prepared candidates to meet their specific skill set requirements.

Service Process

Internship Orientation and Placement: Each term, before pre-registration, an Internship Orientation is organized to provide detailed information on Internships/Projects/Dissertations, and attended mandatorily by all 11th semester students. These students are then placed in organizations as interns to experience the dynamics of a real-world working life where they need to apply their academic knowledge. In addition to carrying out activities required by the organization, students need to complete a Report according to an internal supervisor's guidance. Job Placement: In most cases, students of ULAB get the opportunity to join an organization right after completing their internship. The jobs are offered primarily because of the skills demonstrated by the students and the seamless processing on ULAB's part.

However, any student, who does not receive a job offer, is given guidance and support from the CSO through career fairs, corporate contacts, network, ULAB Alumni, and other possible avenues.

Graduates are advised to keep in touch with the CSO regularly and update their contact information (mobile number and e-mail address), so that the Office can send them new Job Offers or information on Professional Development opportunities.

Career Development Workshops

The CSO offers specialized hands-on workshops to develop skills and strategies that lead to successful placements.

Skills for Career (For students in Terms 4 to 6)

- CV and Cover Letter Writing
- Business Communication and Presentation Skills
- Corporate Grooming (attire, manner, etiquette, etc.)
- Preparing for Interviews, with Mock Interviews

Career Vision (For students of Term 7 and above)

- Academic Education/Job/Dream Job/Career
- Myth: Academic vs. World of Work
- Networking and Interpersonal Skills
- Assessing Own Self (SWOT Analysis: Rediscovering Ourselves) and How to Make Yourself
- Vocabulary Work
- Realities of the Job Market
- How to Market Yourself
- Cyber Etiquette and Plagiarism
- Daily Time Management
- The Importance of Being Socially Responsible and Ethical Human Resources to Contribute in the Sustainable Nation Building Process

Essential Skills Program

The Essential Skills program started at ULAB from 2020. The impetus for starting the program came from feedback from our stakeholders – employers, parents and the students themselves - that our society needs holistic individuals, not just academic experts. In order to function productively for their society, students need to develop some essential skills alongside academic knowledge. It has been found by researchers that soft skills like “people skills” or the ability to get along with others can make or break careers. The Essential Skills program also focuses on the individual and his/ her mental health and wellbeing, which is of crucial importance to survive in this fast-paced world.

Under the “Essential Skills (ESK)” programme, there are four modules - Study Skills (ESK 1110), Healthy Life Skills (ESK 1111), Social Skills (ESK 1112) and Professional Skills (ESK 1113). Each module consists of 6 topics and in total there are 24 topics. These topics cover a broad range of areas starting from Time Management to Mindfulness; from Anger Management to Money Management. In short, these sessions aim to mold the student into a balanced and well-rounded human being, someone who is well prepared to take on the challenges of this modern world.

Each of these mandatory sessions are 80 minutes long. The experienced instructors devise interactive activities for the students. At the end of the session, the students are provided with more reference material to increase their proficiency in that area.

All four modules of the “Essential Skills” course are mandatory for students to attend in full and must be completed to fulfill their graduation requirements. If ever there is a missed attendance, CSO should be contacted in writing by the student and request to be allotted to the next available session for that topic.

Proctor's Office

The role of the Proctor is to ensure the enforcement of the rules and regulations of the university. Specific areas include:

- Ensuring the personal safety of students, teachers, or employees of the university
- Maintaining and safeguarding the assets of the university
- Assisting in solving non-academic disputes among the students with other students, faculty, or admin
- Controlling unauthorized access to the university premises, and
- Ensuring that the ULAB Code of Conduct is properly followed

The Proctor's Office is the first contact point to start disciplinary proceedings. It assesses and investigates complaints and takes necessary steps, from counseling or issuing an official warning to referral to the Disciplinary Committee, depending on the gravity of the offences and according to the advice of the Chairperson of the Disciplinary Committee.

The Proctor's Office will refer any complaints of Sexual Harassment to the Complaint Committee, who will then investigate and make recommendations to the Disciplinary Committee. It will inform the Student Affairs Office about all proceedings involving students.

- IoT Lab
- Nine Computer Labs with high-speed Internet connections
- Browsing PCs in lobbies and lounges for students

Email and Internet

- ULAB Domain email for students with 25 GB per user
- Grades/results published online
- 24-hour free Internet access for all with 700 Mbps duplex Internet bandwidth with redundancy connection

Other Facilities

- Multimedia and Internet facilities in all classrooms
- ID Card Management System
- IT Helpdesk facilities for students, faculty members and admin/staff
- IT-based Security Access Controller
- CCTVs for security monitoring

High-speed Internet, Wi-Fi

ULAB uses two ISPs to deliver 700 Mbps dedicated bandwidth to students and faculty members as well as admin/staff members. ULAB offers secure Wi-fi access on all campuses for use with laptops, Smartphones, and other devices by students and faculty members.

Software and Computer Labs

Dedicated software labs on all campuses allow Science and Engineering students to study and practice programming and engineering design skills. All students can avail the computer labs where Office 365, Visual Studio, Android Studio, NetBeans, Eclipse, Code::Blocks, SPSS Statistics, MATLAB, PCB Artist, Model Sim, Cisco Packet Tracer, SQL Server, MYSQL, etc. are installed. All computers on ULAB's campuses have fully-licensed Anti-Virus software.

iMac Editing Suite

ULAB has an iMac-editing suite for digital film production courses. Twelve iMacs, with fully licensed Final Cut Pro, Adobe Premiere Pro and Adobe After Effects allow students to learn non-linear editing and create digital films on professional-quality equipment.

G Suite

ULAB subscribes to the dynamic and multi-functional G Suite that gives full Gmail functionality (storage and spam blockers) using the ulab.edu.bd domain. These email addresses are available to all students, staff, and faculty members. G Suite also allows access to useful tools like Google Drive, Google Classroom, and Google Meet.

Online Registration

ULAB student course pre-registration takes place using an online registration system. Students can also view their results and payment status online from the system.

Online Payment System

Current students can pay their fees through the online payment system.

POLICIES

GENERAL ACADEMIC POLICIES

The following are the General Academic Policies for the University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh. Any of the rules, conditions, and requirements below is subject to change at the discretion of the authorities.

Duration of Programs

All Bachelors programs at ULAB are designed to be of four years duration. Students admitted to ULAB Bachelors programs must complete their degree within eight years from the date of first enrollment. All programs at ULAB will follow a three terms per year system.

- 1st Term (Spring) - between late January and April
- 2nd Term (Summer) - between late May and August
- 3rd Term (Fall) - between late September and December

The particular dates of the terms may vary from year to year due to official holiday variables or special circumstances, but the minimum duration of each term will always be maintained. Each term will usually last three and a half months or 15 weeks and each term-long course shall typically consist of at least three hours of classroom instruction per week and often, but not always, an hour or two of laboratory or tutorial work.

Medium of Instruction and Examinations

English shall be the medium of instruction, examinations, and all forms of communication at ULAB. The ULAB Core Course (UCC), Bangla Bhasha O Sahitya, will remain out of the purview of this clause.

Registration

Registration for New Students

1. New students receive an ID number from the Admissions Office and pay the admission fees at the Accounts Office.
2. Students are registered for the first term courses by the Registrar's Office according to the course flowcharts/four-year distribution of their respective departments.
3. In the following terms they will follow the procedures mentioned below to complete Pre-registration.

Pre-Registration for Existing Students

There are fixed dates of registration for each term. However, pre-registration for the following term takes place after the mid-term exam of the current term. You are advised to check the Academic Calendar or Registrar's Office for dates. Places held at pre-registration must be validated within the first two days of term registration. Otherwise, they will be vacated in favor of other students. All fees are to be paid at the time of registration and are non-refundable, except for the courses dropped/withdrawn by the time stipulated in the Academic Calendar.

Pre-Registration Procedure:

1. All students will do on-line self-registration of courses on the allotted day, as per the Program.
2. Students will then visit their respective advisors for consultation and approval.
3. Advisors will confirm the registration through online or print and sign the Advising Slip. Students will receive the 'Student Copy' section for their records.
4. The 'Office Copy' will be retained by the advisor and sent to the Registrar's Office at the end of the day

Note: Students registering for next term's courses for the first time will be given priority over students who are registering for a course for second or further time.

Credit Transfer

A student may apply for transfer of credits of a similar course/degree earned from another university/institution only after having gained admission at ULAB subject to a maximum of half the total credits applicable for the particular course/degree at ULAB. Syllabi and Official Transcripts from all previously attended institutions/universities must be submitted at the time of application for credit transfer. Only credits of relevant courses in which s/he earned grade B or better may be transferable to ULAB. The transfer student must have a minimum CGPA of 2.0 and sit for the admission test. The head of the concerned department / program or the Admission Committee will determine equivalence of courses. The application may be referred to the Equivalence Committee, if required. Credit transfer decisions are made on a case-by-case basis where the quality and standard of the institution and/or academic program will be taken into account. For Bangladeshi institutions, transfer of credits will be considered if the institution has been approved by the UGC.

Retake Policy

A student may retake a course if he or she receives a 'B' grade or lower in that course, subject to the offering of that course and availability of seats. Students who wish to retake a course must register for the course again and will be assessed tuition and applicable fees.

Students who retake a course for whatever reason will be excluded from the award of Summa Cum Laude, but may be eligible for the award of Magna Cum Laude. This also applies to courses transferred from other universities.

Change of Degree Program

If a student wishes to change his/her degree program, s/he can apply for transfer to another program after first term results are published and within three terms with the approval of the concerned departments. The student must fill out the prescribed Change of Degree Program Form, available at the Registrar's Office or on the ULAB website.

Student's Batch Identification

ULAB's academic year begins in Spring (between late January and May), continues in Summer (between May and September) and ends in Fall (between October and January) in the following year. Tracing a particular student's batch is done on the basis of the academic year and term in which he or she got admitted to ULAB. For example, a student who took admission in Spring 2021 will be identified with batch 211 and Fall 2021 will have a batch identification of 213. So in general the format of ULAB ID number will consist of first 2 digits for Year, next 1 digit for Term, next 3 digits for Program and next 3 digits for Student Serial Number.

Program Codes of ULAB

Serial	Name of the Program	Program Code

Internship/Project

Internship/Project is an invaluable part of ULAB’s academic program that gives students an opportunity to put their academic knowledge into practice. Most of the departments/ programs have a mandatory 3- to 6-credit equivalent internship or project in their syllabi. Internship is usually done in the last term and the duration is usually 12 weeks. It is the student’s responsibility to find an internship place with a suitable organization. Although the University will assist students in this task, the university cannot guarantee an internship placement.

In some programs, students will be required to work on an approved project at the organization and prepare a report at the end of the internship. This report will be presented before a panel of ULAB examiners and will be graded. If a student cannot find an internship placement, his/her department will assign a supervised project work. Students must abide by the rules and regulations of the organization during the period of attachment and will have to obtain an evaluation report from the organization.

Graduation Requirements

To graduate from ULAB, students must fulfill the following three requirements:

1. Complete the following course distribution with a CGPA of 2.0 or higher (except for transferred courses).
2. Complete at least 43 courses. Depending on a student’s academic background and admission test performance, he or she may be given exemption in up to two basic courses. In that case, s/he will have to take extra GED elective courses to complete the required number of courses for graduation.
3. Complete Internship/Project/Dissertation with minimum C grade.
4. Complete graduation within 8 years from the date of first enrollment.

Courses	No. of Courses
General Education Foundation Courses (GEF)	2

Academic Rules

1. Course Load	The normal course load per term is specified in the term-wise course distribution table in each departmental syllabus. A student may take a reduced load under extenuating circumstances only with his or her advisor’s approval. Taking a reduced load in the first year is strongly discouraged. A student will be deemed to be in full-time enrollment in a term if s/he is registered for minimum of two courses. A student may take additional courses beyond the normal load only if his/her CGPA is 3.50 or above and the departmental head approves it on the recommendation of the faculty advisor. No student will be allowed to take more than five courses per term under any circumstances. If a student wishes to take an extra course beyond the normal load, s/he will be required to pay for the additional course credits.
2. Course Withdrawal	A student will be allowed to withdraw from course(s) by the week 11 (final) of any given term, provided all fees including outstanding dues are fully paid. In exceptional cases (e.g. serious illness of students, death of parents) students may be allowed to withdraw a course after week 11 on recommendation of their advisor and HoD. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Academic Withdrawal (W) is allowed but only before the deadline.
3. Add/Drop Courses	Students will be allowed to add/drop one or more courses only with valid reason and on recommendation of their advisors by week 1 of any given term. During the Add/Drop period, students will not be allowed to change course sections.

4. Leave of Absence and Re-registration	A student applying for a leave of absence should mention a definite term for re-registration and must register immediately after the leave period. An application for a leave of absence needs to be submitted through the head of the concerned department. A leave of absence may be granted for one to three terms, provided the student is in good academic standing (i.e. not on academic probation or subject to dismissal) and his/her fees are fully paid. Students, with approved leave of absence, who have not registered for three consecutive terms will be allowed will be allowed to re-register without paying any additional fees.
5. Re-Admission	If a student does not register for three or more consecutive terms without approved leave of absence, s/he will be treated as an irregular student. He/she must pay a re-admission fee for his/her continuation.
6. Late Registration	Students who do not register on time as per academic calendars must pay a late registration fee.
7. Probation and Dismissal	A student will be placed on probation if his/her CGPA falls below 2.0. A student will be allowed a maximum of three terms to get out of probation by raising his/her CGPA to 2.0 or above, failing which s/he will be dismissed from the University. Note: Dismissed students taking fresh admission will be eligible for a course waiver for the credits completed at ULAB, provided the grades for those courses were at or above a C.
8. Maintenance of Scholarship	Any academic scholarships or waivers offered to a student at the time of enrollment will be continued only if s/he maintains the required CGPA level. The higher the scholarship, the higher the level of required CGPA for continued support. If the student is receiving non-academic merit scholarships, s/he must contribute significantly in their relevant talent fields and maintain a minimum CGPA to continue receiving the scholarships. The required CGPA level for different scholarships or waivers may vary. Students can find the details from their Advisors or the Registrar's Office. Such support may also be reduced or fully withdrawn in cases of disciplinary failures, such as poor attendance or misconduct.
9. Major and Concentration	Students must major in a subject in which the University offers a Bachelors degree, and will be required to pass at least 38 to 49 courses in major subjects. Typically, 20 to 30 of these courses will be Major requirements and 4-9 courses are required for Concentration in a particular area within that program. These requirements may vary from department to department.
10. Minor and Optional	Each ULAB student must take 5 courses from any other department than his/her own department to fulfill the graduation requirement. If a particular student completes all these five courses from a single degree-granting department (as per the guidance of that particular department), that particular student will be considered as taking a "Minor" in that area. But, if he/ she chooses to pursue the same number of courses from different departments, that particular student will be given the status of completion of "optional courses". However, departments have the latitude to design a program making the Minor mandatory for the students of that department.
11. General Education Foundation (GEF) Courses	All students must fulfill the General Education Foundation (GEF) Courses requirements by passing all of the following courses: 1. Academic English I 2. Academic English II
12. Essential Skills (ESK)	All students must fulfill the Essential Skills (ESK) requirements by passing all of the following skills: 1. Computer Skills 2. Healthy Life Skills 3. Social Skills 4. Professional Skills
13. ULAB Core Courses (UCC)	All students must fulfill the ULAB Core Courses (UCC) requirements by passing all of the following courses: 1. Bangla Bhasha O Sahitya 2. History of the Emergence of Independent Bangladesh 3. Ethics
14. General Education (GED) Elective/ Optional Courses	All students have to complete three GED elective courses (one from each tier): Tier I: Arts and Humanities Tier II: Social Sciences Tier III: Natural Sciences A list of courses is provided in this Handbook. Specific courses offered from the list will change from term to term.

15. GED Course Distribution	GED slots are fixed and have to be finished within the first seven terms in the following order:
	<table border="1"> <tr> <td>Term</td> <td>1</td> <td>2</td> <td>3</td> <td>4</td> <td>5</td> <td>6</td> <td>7</td> <td>Total</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Total GED Courses</td> <td>3</td> <td>3</td> <td>2</td> <td>1</td> <td>1</td> <td>1</td> <td>1</td> <td>12</td> </tr> </table>	Term	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	Total	Total GED Courses	3	3	2	1	1	1	1
Term	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	Total
Total GED Courses	3	3	2	1	1	1	1	12
16. GED Retake	If a student fails one or more mandatory GED courses, s/he will have to retake them within two terms of enrollment. Students cannot graduate without fulfilling the GED requirements.
17. Lab-related Courses	In EEE and CSE programs, each lab-related course is a 1-credit course.
18. Unexcused Absences	Six unexcused absences in any course may result in a failing grade (instructors or HoDs may make other recommendations). Failure to attend other mandatory University functions on time or flagrant violation of the attendance policy may be grounds for suspension or expulsion. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 6 Unexcused Absences = Failure of a course!
19. Punctuality	ULAB takes punctual attendance of classes and mandatory university functions with the utmost seriousness. If a student is perennially late to class, his/her grades may be reduced according to the class instructor's discretion.
20. Code of Conduct	Students must be in full compliance with the University's Code of Conduct (see page 45), during the entire period of their studies at ULAB.
21. Subscription Collection	Students must have the permission from proper authority (VC/ Pro-VC/Registrar) to collect money from ULAB students, faculty and staff for any purposes inside and outside the campus.

Grading Scale

B-	2.8	Average
C+	2.5	Below Average
C	2.2	Passing
D	1.5	Probationary
F	0.0	Fail
I	0.0	Incomplete
W	0.0	Withdrawn
AW	0.0	Administrative Withdrawal

Grading in any course will be based primarily on academic performance as reflected in a student's class participation, tests, assignments, mid-term and final exams or papers (most courses will use all these methods of testing). Whenever appropriate, students may also be graded on tutorials, lab work, research or other special projects. The weight assigned to each form of testing may vary from department to department, and indeed course to course.

Attendance and impression/participation in the class may also constitute a serious component of the grading. However, passing all required courses is mandatory to obtain a degree from ULAB.

Explanation of 'I', 'W' and 'AW' grades

I Students will receive an 'I' (Incomplete) grade only if (a) s/he has a chance to get a regular grade (A+ to D) by submitting incomplete tasks, assignments, or project works assigned by the course teacher, or (b) s/he has appeared in the mid-term examination but not in the final examination (due to illness or other valid reason). Normally, a student will have to complete two-third of the course work to request for an 'I' grade. If the 'I' is not replaced with a regular grade within the following semester, it will be automatically converted into 'F' grade.

W Students will receive a 'W' (Withdrawn) grade if s/he has withdrawn from a course within the time stipulated in the Academic Calendar.

AW Students will receive an 'AW' (Administrative Withdrawal) grade if s/he has been withdrawn from the course by the university authority for academic dishonesty.

Grade Review Policy

Grading is to be done in an objective and impartial manner. However, if a student wishes to have a grade reviewed, s/he should follow the following procedure:

1. Request the concerned course teacher for the grade to be recalculated.
2. If the outcome of the above is not satisfactory, apply to the respective Head of the Department, who will review the grade based on student submissions. The student will be informed about the decision in writing.
3. If the outcome is still not satisfactory, submit a formal application in the prescribed form to the Controller of Exams to review the grade. At this stage, students will be required to deposit the required fee for grade review. The fee will be refunded to the respective student account in case the original grade is improved. This review process will be as follows:
 - i. Upon receipt of the complete application, the Controller of Exams will forward the relevant documents to the respective Dean.
 - ii. The concerned Dean will form a grade review committee comprising one of the Professors/Associate Professors from the department, Controller of Examinations, and another faculty member who usually teaches the course or is adequately prepared to teach/familiar with the course contents.
 - iii. The committee will review the application with all the relevant course materials and documents as applicable and inform the final decision in writing to the Dean within fifteen days.
 - iv. The Controller's Office will communicate the final decision in writing to the student and file/upgrade the record accordingly.

Academic Advising

Academic Advising is an integral part of ULAB's academic policy for students' overall development. At the beginning of their academic lives at ULAB, students will be assigned to a Faculty Advisor who will be their main contact for academic or other issues arising during their time at ULAB.

Students should meet their faculty advisor at least twice a term to discuss their progress at ULAB. The advisor will help to identify their educational need, course planning, and career options and also help to resolve problems that might affect academic performance. Students are required to meet their advisor on a regular basis, failing which they may be liable for disciplinary measures.

- Know your Faculty Advisors and meet them twice each term!

Student Honors Lists

Selection of Gold Medalists, Summa Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude and Cum Laude

Honors Category	Criteria (CGPA Ranges)
Gold Medal	Highest CGPA amongst undergrads and Highest CGPA amongst grads
Summa Cum Laude	3.95 to 4.00
Magna Cum Laude	3.85 to 3.94
Cum Laude	3.75 to 3.84

Note on Retakes: Students who retake a course for whatever reason will be excluded from the award of Summa Cum Laude, but may be eligible for the award of Magna Cum Laude. This also applies to courses transferred from other universities.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL AID POLICY

The University provides a range of scholarships and aid for its undergraduate students. Merit-based scholarships range from 10% to 100%, with special scholarships available for all females, and extra scholarships for females going into science and engineering fields. Scholarships are also given to students from Science background who want to do BBA as well as students who have completed A- Levels.

1. Honors Awards: There are currently three types of Honors Awards offered by the University to recognize special distinction by a student in academics.

2. Merit Scholarships: These scholarships are also purely academic awards, based usually on one's GPA in HSC, or HSC and SSC, both at the time of admission. A student needs to maintain requisite GPA during the course of his or her study at the University and also be in good standing in all other regards to retain this award.

3. Special Scholarships:

- a. Freedom Fighters: As per Private University Act 2010 the University will award full scholarship to sons/daughters of freedom fighters, subject to quota allocations each term, maintenance of good academic standing, and university-verified evidence of status.
- b. Remote Areas: Poor and meritorious students from remote area of Bangladesh will be awarded free scholarship, subject to quota allocations each term and maintenance of good academic standing.
- c. Other: The University also awards a number of special, non-academic scholarships, on the basis of proven and documented financial need, or due to social situations, including gender. The University also awards Special Scholarships on the basis of superlative, proven and documented excellence in athletic or cultural areas.

All scholarships are subject to quota allocations for that award in a given term for a given department. Good academic standing is a maintenance requirement for all of them.

Currently, 65% of all ULAB students are receiving scholarships. Additional information on different criteria for scholarships and other details are available at the Registrar's office. All enrolled students are provided copies of a Student Handbook which provides further information on scholarships.

All scholarships are subject to quota allocations for that award in a given term for a given department. Good academic standing is a maintenance requirement for all of them.

Further qualification and maintenance details of these scholarships are provided below. They may change from time to time, but rules are not retroactively applied to awardees.

1. Honors Awards:

a. Named Scholarships (Scholarship names should be mention)

These scholarships are endowed or gifted by a patron or friend of the institution. At this time the University is proud to offer four such scholarships. In addition to the common rules of qualification, any special condition attached by the benefactor may also apply. A benefactor may withdraw an award from the institution or a given awardee, unless it is an endowed award, if either the University or the student fails to comply with their expected conditions and standards.

An award is usually given to a student for the normal four-year duration of his or her program. In case of awards during the course of a program, it applies only to remainder of normal duration.

Named Scholarships are not extendable beyond the normal four year or twelve term duration. Anyone requiring a longer time to graduate, (for any reason whatsoever) loses the award after the normal duration. At that time, it becomes available for a new recipient. It also may become available sooner if an awardee fails to retain it due to poor performance or standing.

Due to the nature and conditions of its award, the Named Scholarship is not available every year or term. When available, the University will notify students with minimum required qualifications to apply.

Eligibility Criteria

1. The Named Scholarship is awarded to a student of outstanding merit in both academics and co-curricular areas. He or she must also be in good standing in every respect, and demonstrate lively school spirit, including community service. A CGPA of at least 3.8 is the minimum requirement to apply for this award. A student must also take full course load in the current term. Students may apply only after completing one year of studies at the University.

• Named Scholarships are not just based on academic results. They are also based on demonstrated leadership and school spirit.

2. Each recipient will receive full waiver of tuition and registration fees, effective from the term of award till graduation (not exceeding remainder of 4-year program duration). The scholarship also carries a stipend of Tk. 2,000/- (Tk. two thousand only) for the recipient during the first three months of a regular term, for a maximum of 9 months in a calendar year.

3. The scholarship does not exempt the student from Club fees, or charges or fees for special tours, trips, projects and so on.

4. Students awarded this scholarship are expected to conduct continuous study without leaves or breaks and complete their degrees in the normal four year period. In exceptional cases, a leave or break may be allowed with continuance of the scholarship, at the discretion of the authorities.

5. Each recipient will have to take full course load in a regular term. No recipients will be allowed to get W, I or F grade in any term. Receiving these grades may lead to immediate revoking of this scholarship.

6. Once awarded, all students, entering or enrolled, are expected to uphold a minimum CGPA of 3.8 per term to maintain the Named Scholarship. A student's status will be reviewed at the end of each term, and scholarship status, if required, revoked or revised at the end of the term.

7. Typically, Named Scholarship awardees are expected to demonstrate a strong co-curricular record and lively school spirit. Community service related activities are strongly recommended for Named Scholarship recipients.

8. To be in full compliance with the Code of Conduct of the university is absolutely essential, and any serious breach may lead to an immediate suspension or revoking of the scholarship.

Application Procedure:

Eligible students should follow the procedure below to apply:

1. Write an application letter addressed to the Vice Chancellor. Students should clearly state the reasons they believe they are eligible for the scholarship. Simple financial need is NOT a valid reason.
2. Submit the application letter to Registrar Office.

Students are advised to attach evidence of their academic achievements and non-academic activities at ULAB to prove their eligibility for the Scholarship, such as:

- Latest official transcript;
- Update CV with a recent passport photograph;
- Letter from the relevant Club Advisor/Coordinator of Co-curricular Activities/other relevant body verifying your participation in other co-curricular and co-curricular activities at ULAB;
- Letter from your Departmental Head, Coordinator and/or your Advisor verifying your achievement in any local/national/international competitions.

b. Vice-Chancellor's Honors List Scholarship

This award is automatically granted to only one student from each department at the end of each term for the upcoming term. This award carries the following benefits:

Full Tuition fees waiver for a particular term which include:

- a) Registration fees
- b) Examination fees or
- c) Any other fees/charges with respect to continue that particular term.
- d) Student will not get any cash benefit if he is not registered student for upcoming term or completed his/her graduation.

Conditions:

- a) The student must earn ‘A’ in all subjects with TGPA (term grade point average) 4.00 in a given term with a minimum load of 4 courses (12 credit hours)
- b) The student must take full course load in the previous term. However, this provision is not applicable to the first term student;
- c) In case of multiple eligible applicants for the same award, following tie breaker options will be applicable:
 - For tie in TGPA, the tie breaker will be highest CGPA
 - For tie in CGPA, the tie breaker will be maximum number of A+/A achieved
 - For tie in A+/A, the tie breaker will be most advanced term status

c. Deans’ Honors List Scholarship

This award is automatically granted to only one student from each department at the end of each term for the upcoming term. The benefit of this award is waiver of full tuition fees for the following term but the student will have to pay other fees.

Conditions:

- a) A student who has completed at least three terms with full course load offered from the respective department.
- b) The student will have to be the top TGPA holder in the term with full course load;

2. Merit Scholarships:

(a) Students must maintain minimum CGPA applicable for his/her at the end of the each term as per the table below in order to retain the waiver:

Waiver in %	Minimum CGPA to Maintain
100%	3.5
75% to 99%	3.3
50% to 75%	3.0
30% to 49%	2.8
Upto 29%	2.5

- (b) If the requisite CGPA at the end of the term is not maintained, waiver will be reduced by one slab (one slab=5% of the existing waiver) continuously;
- (c) Waiver to the female students (10% of the tuition) shall not be affected;
- (d) Conditions of good standing shall apply for retaining waiver;
- (e) Siblings/spouse waiver will cease to exist after discontinuation of one;

3. Special Scholarships:

These scholarships are ‘need based’ usually awarded considering students’ financial situation and complying with other conditions as determined by the ULAB authority.

Any falsehood or misrepresentation in securing such awards, discovered at any time, is a ground not only of withdrawal of the award, but also other disciplinary actions.

Maintenance of awards of athletic and/or cultural excellence depends on the student’s active and superlative performance in those areas in the University through Clubs and/or other avenues. A student deemed to be not in compliance with such promise or expectation may lose the award at the discretion of the qualified authorities.

CGPA maintenance and other required conditions apply for the retention of such awards.

CODE OF CONDUCT & DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

An environment of peace and civility is a pre-condition for the pursuit of higher learning in a university, and ULAB is determined to maintain the said enabling environment, free from indiscipline, disorder and violence.

The University makes and adopts the 'Student Code of Conduct and Disciplinary Procedures' for the purpose stated above.

Ill-discipline includes: interrupting learning through talking out of place, use of mobile phones, lateness to class, or rude words or behavior, etc. It also includes loud talking or disruptive behavior in the hallways during classes and exams.

Procedures

Confidentiality

Utmost confidentiality will be maintained in dealing with all the disciplinary proceedings and investigations, from filing of a complaint by the aggrieved person to the final decision by the Committee.

Lodging a Complaint

Anyone who feels aggrieved or believes that the ULAB Code of Conduct has been violated may lodge a complaint with the Proctor's office or to any ULAB official, including a faculty advisor, other faculty members, admin/staff members, or the Student Affairs Office. Any formal complaint must be immediately forwarded to the Proctor's Office with the consent of the aggrieved person.

All formal complaints must be written and the complainant must submit his/her name, ID and signature. The Proctor's Office will not pursue any verbal or anonymous complaints for Disciplinary Action.

The Proctor is the first step in the Disciplinary Process. Upon the Proctor's recommendation, a complaint will be referred to the Sexual Harassment Committee (as needed) escalated to the Disciplinary Committee, as outlined above and as required by law.

Disciplinary Procedures

The following procedures are to be followed in dealing with the complaints/ offences/ cases:

1. Charges & Hearing: Upon referral by the Proctor's Office, the Disciplinary Committee shall hear all violations of the Code that have been brought to the notice of the Chairperson. It shall inform the accused student of the charges against her/him well in advance of the hearing to afford reasonable time to prepare a defence. The Student Affairs Office will attend all hearings as an agent on behalf of the student(s) and will make recommendations to the Disciplinary Committee. The Disciplinary Committee shall aim at finding the truth and shall take evidence for that purpose. Evidence not having direct bearing on the charges shall not be admitted. The Disciplinary Committee shall arrive at clear determination whether the student is guilty or not.
2. Referral to Sexual Harassment Complaint Committee: The Proctor's Office will refer issues of Sexual Harassment (widely known as 'Eve Teasing') to the Sexual Harassment Complaint Committee, which will investigate and report their findings to the Disciplinary Committee. For further information, please refer to the Complaint Policy in the Appendix.
3. Private Hearing: The enquiry shall be held in private unless the accused student desires, in writing, to an open enquiry. The Disciplinary Committee may refuse any open enquiry in consideration of the sensitive nature of the information to be revealed about a witness, or otherwise that it might affect the right to privacy of the witness or the accused. The Chairperson or any member of the Disciplinary Committee may examine the accused or ask questions.
4. Evidence: The Disciplinary Committee may reject the evidence of any witness on the ground of the witness being an interested person or doubtful witness. The Disciplinary Committee shall not admit testimony of unidentified outside witnesses. When the accused student does not attend the enquiry, the Committee shall take all available evidence in support of the charges before arriving at its conclusion.
5. Written Report: The Committee shall prepare a written report at the end of the enquiry. The report shall become official record in the file of the student(s) and consist of the following:
 - a. Written charges and other documents
 - b. Evidences with a summary
 - c. Findings
 - d. Sanction/Recommendations
6. Appeal Procedure: Any student can lodge an appeal to the Vice Chancellor against the sanctions imposed on him/her for disciplinary violation, within seven days of receiving the sanction order usually issued by the Registrar of the University. The VC will form a Committee to hear the appeal.

Disciplinary Sanctions

The Disciplinary Committee has jurisdiction over all offences listed in the Code. Any violation of the Code shall follow disciplinary proceedings against the delinquent student. The adjudication system is subject to the authority of the Vice Chancellor. Depending on the seriousness of the offence, the Committee will impose sanctions and take other disciplinary measures as listed below:

1. Referral to the Student Affairs Office: The Proctor's Office or Disciplinary Committee may refer the student(s) to the Student Affairs Office for counselling in addition to or in place of any Disciplinary Sanction.
2. Disciplinary Warning: The Committee may impose a Disciplinary Warning, which is a warning given to the delinquent student that his/her conduct is unacceptable and that future breach shall be dealt with severely. It shall, in all other cases, recommend to the Vice Chancellor any one or a combination of sanctions for violation of regulations. The affected student may make an appeal against the Disciplinary Warning.
3. Disciplinary Probation: Disciplinary probation is assigned for a specific period of time. The sanction of disciplinary probation does not debar a student from pursuing courses at the University but may disqualify him/her from awards, prizes, or financial aids.
4. Loss of Privilege: Loss of privilege is withdrawal of privilege, denial of a service or participation in any activity for a specific period of time. The sanction should be consistent with the gravity of the offence committed and the need for rehabilitation of the student.
5. Disciplinary Suspension: Disciplinary suspension denies the student from registration, class attendance, participation in any university event and activity and use of university facilities for specified period of time. This sanction is recorded in the student's file.
6. Disciplinary Expulsion: Disciplinary expulsion is the withdrawal of the affected student's privilege of registration, class attendance, use of University facilities and participation in University activities and events. Disciplinary expulsion is recorded in the student's transcript.
7. Restitution of Property: The payment of damages to or misappropriation of University property, property of the members of the University or visitors to the University is the restitution. Restitution may be imposed in addition to other sanctions.
8. Interim Suspension: Interim suspension requires the student to leave the campus immediately. The departmental head or the Chairperson of the Committee may impose this sanction. This sanction is imposed on a student where there are reasonable grounds to believe that the student is an immediate threat to the safety and security of persons or property or to the functioning of the University.
9. Immediate Expulsion: The following offences may warrant immediate expulsion of the student on the recommendation of the Chairperson without hearing of the Disciplinary Committee:
 - a. Physical abuse
 - b. Unseemly conduct
 - c. Fraud
 - d. Theft
 - e. Damage of Property
 - f. Possession of weapons
 - g. Sexual Harassment
10. Repeat Offences: The following repeat offences shall warrant severe punishment than was awarded for the first offence:
 - a. Academic dishonesty
 - b. Fraud
 - c. Providing false information on academic matters
 - d. Theft
 - e. Disruption
11. Sanction for Academic dishonesty/Plagiarism: Depending on the degree of the infraction, various disciplinary actions may be taken at the discretion of the course faculty involved or the University authorities. Faculty may: issue a verbal warning; give a failing grade on that particular exam/quiz/assignment, etc.; and/or give a failing grade for the course. In exceptional cases, the Disciplinary Committee may recommend term suspension or dismissal.

- 12. Violation of Suspension: If any suspended student returns to the campus during the period of interim suspension, he/she becomes liable to disciplinary dismissal or disciplinary expulsion, as he/she is required to stay off the University campus and property until the Committee takes up official hearing.

Further Regulations

Following Campus Security

Security of ULAB students, faculty, staff, and physical property is of utmost importance. Students are required to follow instructions of security or administrative staff in all matters concerning security of the above. Failure to do so will be considered Disruption (above). Students may be asked to submit to a search of their person or possessions while on campus. Failure to submit will be considered Disruption or Disobedience.

Proper Use of Student IDs

Students are required to wear their own IDs at all times when on campus. Students may not enter the campus or use any facilities for any reason without possessing and wearing their IDs. It is solely the student's responsibility to maintain possession and care of the ID at all times.

- a. Proper way: Students must wear the ID with the specified ribbon so that it is clearly visible. Female students must wear it on the top of their scarf or shawl and not underneath. If the ID and/or ribbon is faded, worn out or not usable, students must contact the security officer on Campus for a replacement.
- b. Forgotten IDs: If a student forgets an ID, he/she may be issued a temporary ID only upon payment of a fine.
- c. Loss or Theft: Loss or theft of an ID must be reported to Security Office, Campus A immediately. A fee must be paid to replace it. The ID will be replaced within a suitable time upon receipt of payment.
- d. Do not share: Students may not lend or share IDs with other persons for any reason. Lending one's ID to another will result in disciplinary action for both the original student and the recipient.
- e. Do not use: If you are not a registered student of the university for a particular term or if you are barred from entering the campus for disciplinary reasons then do not use your ID card even if it works in machines at the entrances of both campuses. You have to take special permission from the authorities to enter into the university.
- f. Consequences of not following the ID policy:
 - i) First time violation: ID card will be seized temporarily. The student in violation of the policy must collect the seized card from the Campus Security Officer after giving a written pledge that he/she will not violate the policy in future.
 - ii) Repeated violation: Fine of Tk. 1,000 (one thousand) for each repetition.

Dress Code

At ULAB, we believe that understanding and wearing appropriate attire is an important aspect of the learning process. As a liberal university, ULAB allows a wide latitude in on-campus dress. Yet students are part of the greater community, and the way a student dresses has an impact on how s/he is perceived by the community. Students must remember that they are representatives of ULAB and should maintain a neat and modest appearance. Full details can be found in the Dress Code Policy for Students.

Student Grievances

The University authorities shall hear any grievance of a student for possible redress. A student may represent a grievance either verbally or in writing through the Students Affairs Office (SAO). Group representation (verbal, in writing or any other form of expression), is strictly forbidden.

IT POLICY FOR STUDENTS

Registration: Upon registration, all students are provided with the following IT facilities, free of cost:

- ULAB-domain email (@ulab.edu.bd) with unlimited storage
- ULAB-domain account for accessing computers with 100MB network space
- URMS account for course registration, viewing grades and fee accounts
- Access to Wi-Fi network on all campuses for single personal laptop or mobile device
- Access to ULAB File Server
- Access to Computer Labs
- Access to Browsing PCs in hallways and student lounges
- ULAB IT Helpdesk

Non-Registration: If a student does not register in a particular term, access to the following ULAB IT services will be closed until re-registration:

- ULAB domain
- ULAB File Server
- Campus Wi-Fi

Cancellation of Studentship: If studentship is cancelled, access to the following ULAB IT services will be closed:

- ULAB domain
- ULAB File Server
- Campus Wi-Fi
- URMS
- ULAB email groups
- ULAB email

Graduation: Upon successful completion of a student's term of study, access to the following ULAB online services will be closed:

- ULAB domain
- ULAB File Server
- Campus Wi-Fi
- URMS
- ULAB email groups*
- ULAB email (after one year)

* ULAB-alumni group may be retained indefinitely under a graduated student's personal email.

Caveats:

1. ULAB students must not use any of the above facilities to commit any crime or break the ULAB Code of Conduct, including (but not limited to): cyber-crime, cyber-bullying, sexual harassment, threats, intimidation, theft, identity theft, phishing, hacking, piracy, spam, viruses, terrorism or pornography. (See also ULAB Code of Conduct.)
2. Students will not allow others to share their computer/network access or passwords.
3. Students will sign off from the computer/network access when leaving the desk.
4. Students using laptops or mobile devices to access campus Wi-Fi must register their devices each term with ULAB IT, upon showing a valid ULAB ID card.
5. Students will be careful in using all IT facilities including computers, turnstiles and other devices in order to obtain maximum utility.
6. ULAB authority reserves the right to block any Internet sites or allow restricted access, and amend/add/delete any provision of this policy at any time.
7. Computer Labs may not be available at all times due to pre-scheduled classroom use.
8. Undergraduate students must exit the Computer Labs by 6:00 pm.
9. Graduate students must exit the Computer Labs by 9:00 pm.

CO-CURRICULAR POLICY

Co-curricular activities are essential to a Liberal Arts education to build important skills that complement classroom learning, such as leadership, teamwork, and creativity. ULAB Co-Curricular activities are designed to engage students in activities that are immensely important and capable of maximizing the potential of students. Furthermore, ULAB believes in active learning, therefore ULAB provides students with opportunities to apply classroom learning in the real world through co-curricular activities. Students engage in active learning by getting involved in different real life scenarios. ULAB has introduced significant co-curricular components that are rarely practiced in the South Asian region.

Vision

Develop students as global citizens.

Mission

ULAB considers co-curricular activities as a major platform for student learning. The Co-curricular Office has a mission to provide an all-round experience to each student. The Co-Curricular Office promises to provide a co-curricular environment so that students can develop their own identity, individuality, and diversity.

Next Generation Skills: The Co-Curricular Office supports students in achieving a global competitive edge. As we believe a major portion of active learning occurs outside the classroom, the Co-curricular Office focuses on improving certain skills among ULAB students. The skills emphasized are:

- Leadership
- Social and Interpersonal Skills
- Communication Skills
- Management Skills
- Critical Thinking
- Mental and Physical Wellbeing
- Specialized Skills

Clubs:

The mainstay of co-curricular life at the university is its clubs. The clubs will maintain regular weekly activities to enhance skills and learning. The activities of clubs may include: educational field trips, workshops, seminars, games, concerts, cultural programs, intra- and inter-university competitions or tournaments, etc.

The Co-Curricular Office will organize all-club activities such as Club Day, Baishakhi Mela, etc.

To enable students to test and generate these next generation skills, ULAB has 23 clubs with a variety of activities:

ULAB Co-Curricular Module

In the process of ensuring co-curricular learning, the Co-Curricular Office has introduced a Co-curricular Module for students join from Spring 2020 Semester. Under the Co-curricular Module, every student at ULAB will be required to complete certain co-curricular activities.

Co-Curricular Modules

The Co-curricular Module requires students to complete certain activities over their 4-year study period at ULAB. The module has been introduced in Spring 2020 semester and required for students who joined ULAB in Spring 2020 semester or later.

Co-Curricular Module Requirements

Students have to participate in an introductory class and do several other activities to complete the co-curricular module requirement. At the end of the study period, every student will receive a co-curricular transcript containing students’ achievements. Every activity mentioned in the module will be assessed through respective assessment authorities.

To complete all the requirements in the module, students need to achieve the following co-curricular units during their study at ULAB:

Co-curricular Programs/ Courses	Number of Required Units	Module requirements
Life Skills	2	Complete and Pass CCC100 course. Passing mark 50%.
Service and Achievements	4	Complete any one/ two activities listed in co-curricular module.
Community Engagement	4	Need to participate in any club for two semesters.
Total	10	Remark: At least 10 co-curricular units are required for you to complete the module but do more to achieve more co-curricular units. Your achievements will be reflected in the co-curricular transcript.

Policy for Club Activities

- Clubs must be officially approved by the university. No outside group or party may start a club on campus. While students are free to belong to an outside group, they may not use the university premises or facilities for its activities; nor will they have access to university patronage.
- Each club will be run under the guidance and supervision of a Faculty Advisor, who will directly appoint the executive committee of the club.
- In the event a Faculty Advisor leaves the post, the Co-Curricular Coordinator will choose a new advisor. The executive committee may propose a faculty member, but the proposal must be approved by the Co-Curricular Director.
- Contradicts earlier statement that a student must join for at least 2 semesters, but a student may be a member of a particular club for a maximum of three years in her/his entire university life.
- Upon formation, each club must submit its Mission Statement to the Co-Curricular Director.
- The tenure of the executive committee is one year, but the Faculty Advisor will monitor its performance and can make changes or dissolve the committee, if they prove to be incompetent, or act in ways contrary to the policies, purpose or the spirit of the club. Any violation of the “ULAB Code of Conduct” will be an automatic disqualifier for committee position, if not club membership.
- The executive body of the clubs will consist of minimum three and maximum six members. The committee will consist of following positions:
 - ✓ President
 - ✓ Vice President
 - ✓ General Secretary
 - ✓ Organizing Secretary
 - ✓ Finance Secretary
 - ✓ Publication Secretary

Duties of the Executive Positions

President: Preside over club meetings, participate actively in policy making, maintain liaison with the faculty advisor and perform other such duties as President of the club.

General Secretary: Keep the records of membership, record the attendance at the meetings, send out notices of meetings of the club, record and preserve the minutes of such meetings and perform such other duties as usually pertains to the office of Secretary.

Finance Secretary: Have custody of all funds and perform other such duties as pertain to the office of Finance Secretary.

- The executive committee will meet at least once a month and call general meetings as required.
- Clubs will recruit new members in the week following Club Day each semester.
- Members active for at least 3 semesters will be provided with a certificate by ULAB Co- Curricular Office.

THE UNDERGRADUATE CURRICULUM

GENERAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Introduction to the Program

The General Education (GED) program forms the very foundation of the liberal arts curriculum at the University. It serves two main purposes:

1. Provide students a number of basic subjects by way of building the intellectual foundations and skills absolutely necessary for both any tertiary level education, and especially for a liberal arts perspective.
2. Offer students' exposure to courses not offered by their respective departments, but courses that are vital both to a deepening and broadening their liberal arts perspective.

The General Education (GED) Courses are offered both through the Program and also through existing departments. These courses are offered into four categories: General Education Foundation (GEF) Courses, Essential Skills (ESK), ULAB Core Courses (UCC) and General Education Elective (GED) Courses. The latter also serve as "Optional" choices for advanced students.

All the courses listed under the above-mentioned categories are already built into every undergraduate degree program and clearly indicated on their respective syllabi. Students following any given degree program will be automatically directed towards the required GEF, ESK, UCC and GED elective/optional and Minor, that they must take or choose from.

The GEF, ESK, UCC courses remain fixed over extended periods of time, and are offered in a fairly fixed sequence, so students following their departmental syllabi can know which GED courses to take when without reference to any other directions.

The GED elective, and/or optional courses may vary quite a bit from term to term, and students are advised to consult the listings for each term to know what they must take or may choose from.

Minor in Sustainable Development Studies

Introduction

Sustainability is a growing field, with job opportunities in the natural sciences, social sciences, and the humanities because it is believed that ‘Sustainable Development’ will meet the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs. Sustainable Development is about thinking and working in a holistic and integrated way to meet the three pillars of development – social, environmental, and economic. It is expected that the sustainability professionals will promote environmental protection, social responsibility, and profitability. Since 2018, CSD is offering its up-to-date Minor in “Sustainable Development Studies” to the students of ULAB. The minor consists of 8 diverse courses led by a precise curriculum and expert faculty members. Courses on Sustainable Development, Climate Change, Biodiversity and Nature Conservation, and Organic Farming, have not only been covering taught content knowledge, but also practical orientation on action research, social development, real life skill generation, and exposure to national and international organizations. The following section will guide you through all the basic information you need to acquire before you choose SDS as your minor at ULAB. After completion of this minor program, students will be able to develop required capacities for designing development projects, improve their research and management skills, receive opportunities to expand horizons of cross-cultural and intercultural understanding, and build on entrepreneurial, innovative business and marketing skills. The academic program would help students to think critically and analytically, thereby to make well-informed contributions regarding the sustainable development issues as well as in job field.

Course Descriptions

To get a minor in SDS, students need to take five courses (15 Credits), with 2 compulsory courses and 3 Elective courses out of 6. The following chart shows specific distribution of the courses that SDS Minor offers:

Compulsory

GED 2157	Introduction to Sustainable Development

Eligibility

Students from any department can do a Minor in Sustainable Development Studies. To join the courses in SDS Minor, students will have to be currently enrolled at ULAB and they have to complete 69 Credits of their bachelor degree to take minors.

BACHELOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Introduction to the Program

The BBA program inspires students to learn and practice the concepts, principles, and methods of contemporary business to become industry leaders. Our aim is to strike a balance between liberal arts and business courses, realizing the relevance of each. ULAB's BBA students are distinguished by their in-depth knowledge of the discipline, cutting edge soft and hard skills, and a wider perspective towards the world that is enabled by our liberal arts foundation. As 21st century global citizens, they achieve the highest skills in the field of business, while at the same time, they attain an appreciation of the fundamentals of the social environment within which all business decisions are made.

Vision

We will set the standard for business education in Bangladesh in terms of quality, employability, and social impact of graduates. We will also be at the forefront of knowledge generation on business in the Bangladesh context creating a positive impact on industry and society.

Mission

Our mission is to ensure continuous growth of our students by imparting the highest standard of business education, critical thinking, leadership skills, and a commitment to excellence. We will continuously create and disseminate new knowledge through research and education that develops the practice of business in Bangladesh and enhances its relationship with society.

Program Education Objective (PEO)

PEO 1: To provide a strong foundation in the arts and sciences through which students gain an appreciation and understanding of the humanities, behavioral sciences, social sciences, fine arts and natural sciences.

PEO 2: To offer the fundamental concepts and theory of business practice and specialized study in business discipline.

PEO 3: To develop effective oral and written communication skills.

PEO 4: To instigate the ability to think critically, analyze problems quantitatively, and use computer technology to solve business problems.

PEO 5: To grow an awareness and comprehending of the global context in which business operates.

PEO 6: To advance understanding of the ethical and social issues that is a concern to the business community.

PEO 7: To prepare students to become responsible and contributing members of the community at large.

In the BBA Program each student must take a total of 40 academic courses and four Essential Skills modules to fulfil the graduation requirements. The total 120 credits required are distributed in coursework, essential skill modules, and an internship at the end. Of the 27 courses to major in Business Administration, a student needs to complete 20 Core courses, 6 Major Elective (Study Concentration) courses, and a full term of internship or project work. Apart from the business courses, all students are required to take 10 General Education and 5 elective courses from the chosen minor area (see details below).

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN ENGLISH AND HUMANITIES

Introduction to the Program

The BA in English and Humanities program is designed to give students a solid foundation for building critical and cultural awareness as well as to open unfamiliar worlds and exciting new ways of thinking about humanities. As an English Major, students will also learn communication and language skills that are applicable across disciplines. The focus areas involve critical reading, critical writing and critical thinking. The department tries to develop in students not only basic communication skills, but also other key areas necessary both for intellectual and professional advancement: humanistic content, analysis, argumentation, rhetoric and stylistics. These broad offerings to all students make the department one of the major nodal points in the University's Liberal Arts curriculum.

The Department's courses are not confined to traditional disciplinary boundaries, but are open to inter- and cross-disciplinary offerings. This dynamic approach allows students to develop skills and sensibilities vitally required by modern English language and literature teachers and by people across professional fields: communications and media, business and marketing, and so on.

The syllabus is designed with utmost care and aims at simultaneously improving the language skills of the students and deepening their knowledge of literature. The courses have been selected by comparing them with similar programs offered by outstanding universities at home and abroad, and are routinely updated. The aim in doing so has always been to bring it more into line with international developments in the field. While the literature courses are mainly following an established English canon, the language and linguistics courses have been refurbished with the latest ideas, theories and practices in the field. The literature courses, however, in their turn, are given a focus that interfaces Anglo-American culture with our own. The principle behind it is to make students see the integrative as well as the disintegrative aspects of different cultures, and to find out a way to a holistic understanding of literature and language in relation to our own society.

The highlights of the program include:

- Flexibility
- Wider choices
- Holistic learning
- Marketability

Why Study at DEH

Students of the Department of English and Humanities revel in reading and writing about language, literature and Culture. They learn to participate in life with a deeper understanding of how language operates in various formats. The interdisciplinary nature of the program allows DEH students to pair English courses with those from Sustainable Development, Media and Journalism, Business, Computer Science or General Education with focus on psychology, international relations and so on.

DEH is more than a knowledge base. It prepares you for life after your graduation; you acquire a set of applicable skills while attending various extra-curricular activities and study modules.

Vision

To become one of the leading English departments of the region by broadening knowledge and by instilling the required skill set in students using a humanist and liberal arts approach.

Mission

Consistent with the University's commitment to liberal arts, the Department of English and Humanities (DEH) seeks to:

- Employ an interdisciplinary approach to foster lifelong learning and critical thinking to make students knowledgeable and ethically engaged citizens, enabling them to respond creatively and flexibly to the challenges of a diverse and changing world. It equips students with the communicative and analytical skills needed for employment in both public and private sectors or for higher studies;

- Offer courses that survey different literary periods and genres through theoretical, philosophical, cultural, and pedagogical lenses to understand language, linguistic, and literary texts. The courses also focus on developing theoretical, philosophical, and intellectual abilities. There is an overall emphasis on pursuing new avenues of research.

Objectives of the Program

- To impart language skills and develop literary sensibilities so that graduates become intellectually competent and responsible citizens of the world
- To help students acquire the required professional skills and mindset that will be valuable for a wide range of careers in such fields as teaching, publishing, media, entrepreneurship, civil service, government and private sectors, as well as for higher studies.
- To provide appropriate academic and infrastructural support (class size, classrooms, resources, and technology) for better student retention, progress, and academic success
- To expose students to real-life work environments through apprenticeships/internships, in-house jobs, and mentorship programs
- To offer avenues for publication through the student magazine, MUSE, and the department's peer-reviewed journal, Crossings
- To support and facilitate faculty research and professional development, and encourage greater participation in professional activities

Minor/Optional Courses

For DEH Students

DEH students have to take five courses offered by other departments. They can do this in one of two ways:

1. do a Minor (comprised of five structured courses) in any other undergraduate program, such as Media Studies & Journalism (MSJ), Business Administration (BBA), Computer Science & Engineering (CSE), or Sustainable Development Studies (SDS), OR
2. choose "Optional," which means doing any five courses, subject to availability and fulfillment of any prerequisite, from any department, except DEH.

Students who wish to do a Minor should visit the relevant departmental section in this handbook for the list of courses to be taken. For example, if a student wishes to do a minor in BBA, s/he should see the "Minor Courses" paragraph in the Bachelor of Business Administration section.

Minor in English (For students of other departments)

The Department of English and Humanities offers Minor courses in two areas for students of other departments. The courses listed below are sample courses. It should be noted that different courses will be offered in different terms. Some courses from the DEH core course list may be offered here too.

Compulsory: (2 courses / 6 credits)

Course Code	Course Title	Credits

ENG 2880	Advanced Reading Technique	3
ENG 4102	Introduction to Creative Writing	3

Dissertation/Internship

The final course will be the Project/Dissertation/Internship/Non-thesis course, which must be taken in the twelfth or final semester. Students enrolled in Dissertation may choose to focus on literature or language, depending on their area of interest that will prepare them for further specialization in the MA program.

The selection of the Dissertation topic or the internship organization will be done in Term 10 by the students in their ENG 4101 (Research Methodology) course. In case of Internship, the selection of organization can be made either by the students (subject to ULAB approval) or with the assistance of the ULAB Career Services Office. Students will also need to select a Dissertation/Internship Supervisor from amongst DEH faculty in Term 11. The period of internship attachment may be 8-12 weeks, during which students will work and research a topic connecting their area of concentration with their workplace.

Both dissertation and internship students will have to present their theses/reports before a faculty panel.

Students with a lower grade than B (plain) in ENG 4101 (Research Methodology) will automatically be registered in the non-thesis course in their final term.

Student Support Services

Advising

DEH students are assigned to a DEH faculty advisor who help them to identify their educational needs, plan for courses, discuss career options, and also resolve problems that might affect their academic performance.

The Writing Center

Named as the English Zone, the writing center is an academic English learning center for all ULAB students. Students can get writing help, editing service, workshops on grammar, presentations and research as well as opportunities to practice speaking in English through conversation hours.

Teaching Assistants and Peer Mentors

DEH hires advanced students as Teaching Assistants and trains them in leadership skills, written, and oral communications. They are also assigned to help the weaker students. SAO also recruits advanced students of DEH to become peer mentors and help other students in their academic life

Career Counseling

DEH regularly arranges workshops on soft skills, editing, translation, and other topics. It also posts recruitment notices as well as whenever there are opportunities to do internship and trainings.

Student Magazine

Mouthpiece of ULAB Students of English (MUSE) is the creative space run by the students of DEH. The magazine, available both online and in print version, publishes department news, features, columns, literary pieces, book/movie reviews, experimental artworks, and photographs. It gives students hands-on training in editing and publication skills too.

Literary Club

Paper Canoe is a literary club under the Department of English and Humanities which aims at ensuring students' participation in activities such as debates, declamations, group discussions, poetry writing and recitation, short story writing, quiz contests, interactive lecture/review sessions, etc. Through these activities, the club reaches out to language and literature lovers and tries to create a space for them.

Student Research

Students demonstrate interdisciplinary research skills in studying language and literature in different contexts in student dissertations that reflect general understanding of various critical and theoretical frameworks of English Studies.

The department's annual Inter-university Student Conference and Cultural Competition gives students an opportunity to do research and compete with participants from major public and private universities of the country. The cultural competition allows them to explore and experiment on topics both national and international relevance using multiple artistic modes of expression.

Curriculum Integration Program

The experimental and multidisciplinary Curriculum Integration program held every term on a specific theme allows students to demonstrate their skills in application of critical theories to understand and interpret their immediate social world thereby making them more informed citizens.

Scholars Program

The Scholars Program is designed to provide a platform for those high-achieving students who strive for academic excellence and are ready to explore extensive educational opportunities not covered by the standard curriculum.

BACHELOR OF SOCIAL SCIENCE IN MEDIA STUDIES & JOURNALISM

Introduction to the Program

ULAB's FLAGSHIP department is the Media Studies and Journalism department, which has grown to become the largest and most prominent media, communication and journalism school in the country. As of December 2020, it has around 900 undergraduate and graduate students and 31 faculty, instructors and teaching assistants. Established in 2004, it was first headed by Dhaka University Professor Sakhawat Ali Khan. In 2006, Prof. Brian Shoesmith (from Edith Cowan University, Australia) became the department head. He was succeeded in 2009 by Prof. Jude William Genilo (from the Philippines).

The undergraduate curriculum has study concentrations in Digital Journalism, Digital Film and Television Production, Public Relations and Communication for Development. Its Masters in Communication program focuses on communication research and policy, corporation communication and development management. In 2020, ULAB ranked 46th among the top 50 universities under the Industrial Applications category in the World's Universities with Real Impact (WURI) Ranking. The thesis program of the Masters in Communication program was ULAB's entry in the said ranking.

The department is affiliated with the following: Asian Media Information and Communication Centre (AMIC), International Communication Association (ICA), Global Alliance on Public Relations and Communication Management (GA), Communication Initiative Network, and International Association of Media and Communication Research (IAMCR). Professor Jude William Genilo is the current Ambassador for IAMCR in Bangladesh.

Given the university's research thrust, the department has pursued publications. It has produced the most comprehensive anthology on Bangladesh's Changing Mediascape: From State Control to Market Forces (Editors: Brian Shoesmith and Jude William Genilo; Intellect UK Publisher), which is the basic text for anyone in the country taking a media and journalism degree. It contributed towards the understanding of the 1971 Liberation War through two photography books - Price of Freedom (Raghu Rai) and Revisiting Anwar Hossain's '71 (Editors: Jude William Genilo and Md. Abdul Kader). The department's research agenda includes C4D, Development Communication, Mass Communication, Journalism Studies and Public Relations.

Aside from its research work, the department has very strong co-curricular programs. In order to give students a taste of the real world and help them gain some work experience before they jump into the media industry, several apprenticeship programs are offered - Radio Campbuzz, ULAB TV, Cinemascope (film), PR4U (Public Relations), ULABian Student Newspaper, Shutterbugs (photography) and ULAB Animation Studio. It regularly organizes and hosts public events such as Meet the Editor, Reporter's Diary, Meet the Director and Meet the Artist. Under its Curriculum Integration Program, it holds a film and visual exhibition of student works three times a year at the prestigious Shilpakala Academy (National Gallery).

To improve the employability prospects of its students, the department requires a portfolio before graduation. The portfolio consists of 16 media projects from their foundation and specialized courses. The department has a few outreach projects - Dhaka International Mobile Film Festival, Axis Media and Information Literacy and Creative Time Summit Bangladesh.

Vision

Decolonized minds through media education and innovation.

Mission

Nurturing creative and critical thinkers in communication and cultural studies.

Objective of the Program

To produce ethical citizens who critically explore, understand and utilize media, culture and communication.

Minor CoursesFor MSJ Students

MSJ students have to take five courses offered by other departments. They can do a minor in any other undergraduate program, such as Business Administration (BBA), English and Humanities (DEH), Computer Science and Engineering (CSE) and Sustainable Development Studies (SDS). They can choose any five courses, subject to availability and fulfillment of pre-requisite, from the department mentioned above. Students who wish to do a minor should visit the relevant departmental section in this handbook for the list of courses to be taken.

Minor in MSJ (For students of other departments)

Students from other departments wishing to do a minor in Media Studies and Journalism will be required to complete five courses. Every term Media Studies and Journalism Department offers courses as minor for other Department students. Students will have to take five courses from the offerings:

Course Code	Course Title	Credits
MSJ 2101	Communication and Technology	3
MSJ 2251	Journalism and Society	3
MSJ 2252	Digital Audience	3
MSJ 2231	Visual Communication	3

Internship/Project

MSJ 4298 Internship (3 Credits / 1 Course)

All students studying at the MSJ Department will undertake an internship in an area of media or communication that interests them. By their final semester of study, students are required to seek out a suitable organization for an internship to appreciate and experience the dynamics of working in a real organization. These may be unpaid or occasionally paid, depending on the employer. The duration of the internship is usually from 8 to 12 weeks. Students are expected to work during the employer's requested hours. This is to be negotiated between the host institution and the students.

Projects

Filmmaking Project

Instead of an internship, students may opt for a film-making project. A maximum of four students can work on the same project fulfilling one major role – Script, Cinematography, Editing, or Direction. Students have to make a 15 to 25 minute video of a fictional story or a documentary. Each student is expected to prepare their production book detailing their project and any lessons learned from it. This production book along with the film will be presented before a panel of ULAB examiners and will be graded.

Study Tour and Project Internship

ULAB MSJ organizes a two-week (or more) media and communications course with a foreign institution in Bangkok, Thailand, Delhi, India, and Moscow, Russian Federation. The program is then integrated with the internship program. It is divided into two phases as follows:

- The first phase of the internship will take place abroad and will last at least two weeks. Students will need to go through a series of Academic, Experiential, and Cultural Programs.
- The second phase of the internship will begin once the students return to the University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh. Most of the activities in the second phase will be directly related to the two-week course work abroad. Finally, the students will have to produce an Internship Report and present their work during the Internship Presentation at the end of the term.

Research Project

The Research Project Internship takes advantage of the Masters in Communication (MComn). MSJ students need to make a decision on undertaking research in lieu of a workplace internship at the end of their 11th semester. The student is required to produce the first two chapters (Introduction and Study Framework) of a research project. This will be presented and defended before a panel.

Portfolio

MSJ 4299 Portfolio (3 Credits / 1 Course)

All students studying at the MSJ Department must create a portfolio over the course of their study. By their final semester of study, students are required to have a file that will showcase the key projects of certain courses that they had taken during their undergraduate study.

A student portfolio is a compilation of academic work and other forms of educational evidence assembled for the purpose of (1) evaluating coursework quality, learning progress, and academic achievement; (2) determining whether students have met learning standards or other academic requirements for courses and graduation; (3) helping students reflect on their academic goals and progress as learners; and (4) creating a lasting archive of academic work products, accomplishments, and other documentation.

Apprenticeship Programs

The MSJ Department offers apprenticeship programs. By definition, an apprentice is a person who learns the skills of a specific craft or trade by receiving hands-on training from someone who is already an expert. By working with an expert in the field, the apprentice will learn the necessary techniques and theoretical knowledge to work independently in the future. The apprenticeship program covers the fields of film, photography, journalism (print, electronic and online), public relations and animation. The objectives of the program are to boost the MSJ Department’s peer teaching methodology; to create core student groups that can assist the MSJ Department in its conduct of internal and external activities; to facilitate student communication within the MSJ Department and with other departments in the University through various media tools; and to develop advanced skills of students passionate in particular media forms and channels. The fields, expected outputs, and descriptions of the apprenticeship program are summarized as follows:

 ULABian: Print Journalism Expected Output: Campus Newspaper (English and Bangla Content) Description: Campus Paper published every semester.	 CampBuzz Radio Broadcasting Expected Output: ULAB Campus Radio Description: Sunday - Wednesday 11:00 am - 2:00 pm live programme. Outreach Programs

Creative Time Summit

Creative Time Summit is an event that is hosted around the world but initially began in New York. Their motto is to solve problems around the world with the help of art. ULAB is the official screening site of the Creative Time Summit and is only one of the two sites of the Summit in Asia. Aside from screening a number of sessions from the summit, ULAB invites a number of guests to speak on the occasion. Mr. AFM Moniruzzaman, Senior Lecturer, Media Studies and Journalism Department, undertakes an interactive graffiti, a project where students and teachers of ULAB express themselves on a single canvas, which eventually comes through as a unified form of painting. The painting depicts the summit theme.

Dhaka International Mobile Film Festival

Dhaka International Mobile Film Festival (DIMFF) started in 2015 as Cinemascope Mobile Film Competition (CMFC). The festival upholds and promotes the motto 'New generation, New tools, New communication'. The festival is free of entry for students. Screening Category is open for all but the Competition category is restricted to university students at Undergraduate or Graduate level and One Minute Film category is limited to Grade 1-12 students. Films for this festival must be shot on a mobile phone (cellphone/smartphone). However, there is no restriction regarding the brand, model, and operating system of the phone or post-production tools. DIMFF's purpose is not only to inspire and spark creativity in people of all ages with limited income or resources but also to encourage filmmakers to harness their dreams and to recognize the immense possibilities to accomplish them.

Axis MIL

Axis MIL is an outreach program of the Department of Media Studies and Journalism that promotes Media and Information Literacy (MIL) as a lifelong learning skill among students, educators, journalists, advocates, and practitioners in a knowledge-based and media-saturated Bangladeshi society. AxisMIL is the coordinator for South Asia for the Global Alliance for Partnerships on Media and Information Literacy (GAPMIL), a joint initiative of UNESCO and other key stakeholders, to promote international cooperation to ensure that all citizens have access to media and information competencies. It facilitates networking and research on Media Information Literacy (MIL) through GAPMIL and other networks. The program extends alliances and collaborations with local and international researchers and organizations which include NGOs, education institutions, and media organizations.

Curriculum Integration Program

The Curriculum Integration Program was established to facilitate faculty and students from various year levels and study concentrations to work together and learn from each other. It has two primary objectives. First, it utilizes active learning approaches to enhance the educational experience of students. Second, it encourages students to look inward — to reflect on their own personalities, aspirations and identities. The Department believes that students must be comfortable and confident with themselves before they can positively contribute to others. Every semester, the MSJ Department launches an exhibit to facilitate curriculum integration. Each exhibit is based on a philosophical/sociological concept and/or theory, which is used to guide and harmonize student outputs as well as ground them in communication-related perspectives. The exhibit brings together the works of students, which includes research paper presentations, communication campaign materials, visual art, digital art, photography, and film exhibitions.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN COMPUTER SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

Introduction to the Program

The Department of Computer Science and Engineering aims to graduate highly competent students with the potential of becoming the leaders in their field and also to impart knowledge which allows them to understand the implications of their work on both to themselves as well to the society as a whole.

ULAB CSE, since its inception, has been offering an undergraduate program in Computer Science and Engineering with a focus on developing skills for ICT industries worldwide. The designed program provides students with the fundamental skills needed to become an accomplished IT specialist. The program also aims at a wider knowledge of the subject, rather than a mere understanding of the existing commercial approaches. The degree is designed for a wide range of students, including those who wish to pursue a career in software engineering, computer programming or related areas, and also those who wish to move on to study for higher degrees in the computing and information technology areas, either at home or abroad.

The department believes in a philosophy of Active Learning which is reflected in our curriculum and teaching styles. The Computer Science and Engineering (CSE) curriculum has been designed with both theoretical and industry-oriented courses. The department provides state of the art laboratory facilities, with guidance from the top-notch faculties, to bring out the best from the students. Departmental active collaboration with local and international reputed companies is keeping both CSE students and faculty updated with industry innovations and requirements. In their last academic year, students will be able to choose a concentration area or any other elective courses to focus their career according to their interest. Furthermore, the Liberal Arts curricular framework will help the students to acquire an openness of vision to become adaptable and ever-effective professionals of this century and for the time to come. The program objectives address our goal of graduating highly competent students with the potential of becoming leaders in their careers and add value to society.

Vision

To produce highly competent graduates who will become leaders in Computer Science and Engineering.

Mission

- To prepare our students to meet high standards of excellence for professional career advancement.
- To create and disseminate new knowledge through basic and applied research in the field of Computer Science and Engineering.
- To build strong relationships between industry and academia, eliminating the gap.

Objectives of the Program

The program objectives, as derived from the departmental mission statement, address our goal of graduating highly competent students with the potential of becoming leaders in the field of their careers and understanding the implications of their work on both to themselves and to society as a whole. The program objectives are:

Foundation: To provide graduates with a solid foundation in the principles and practices of computer science, including mathematics, physical sciences, and basic engineering. This foundation is necessary to succeed in more advanced Computer Science and Engineering coursework where students will apply these principles and practices to a variety of complex problems, and which will further develop their analytical and creative problem-solving skills and enable them to work successfully on multidisciplinary teams, in both classroom and laboratory settings.

Breadth: To provide graduates with sufficient breadth in computer science and related technical disciplines. This breadth is required not only to understand engineering trade-offs that cross disciplines (for example, hardware and software boundaries), but also to participate effectively in multidisciplinary teams. To also provide students with breadth in the liberal arts and social sciences to develop their awareness of societal issues; to develop effective oral and written communication skills; and to develop an understanding of professional and ethical issues related to computing.

Depth: To provide our graduates with advanced training in focused areas of their choice. This depth is necessary to solve complex real-world engineering problems and prepare them to contribute to a specific discipline within computer science and possibly pursue advanced study or research.

Degree Requirements for Bachelor of Science in CSE

To obtain the BSc degree in CSE, students will have to successfully complete minimum 140 credits. The credit and course requirement for the CSE degree program is shown in the table below.

Concentration Group (4 theory + 1 lab /13 credits)

The students will choose a concentration group consisting of four elective courses. These groups are designed to provide undergraduate specialization in specific topics. The offered groups are:

- I. Computational Theory
- II. Network and Communications

- III. Security
- IV. Systems
- V. Data Science
- VI. Software Engineering
- VII. Hardware
- VIII. Information and Communication Technology

CSE concentration group courses can be taken in one of two ways:

1. Students will have to take three elective courses from any one of the concentration groups and one elective course from any other group. Among the three courses, at least one should have a corresponding lab course.
2. Students can take four elective courses from any two concentration groups, whereby at least one course should have a corresponding lab course. If a student chooses elective courses such that more than one course have corresponding lab courses, the total credits to be completed for the degree will increase accordingly.

Minor/Optional

For CSE Students

CSE students, choosing the Optional, have to complete three courses offered by any department other than CSE as an optional course.

Students choosing a Minor must take a total of 5 courses from any of the undergraduate programs. The courses must be chosen from that program's specified courses for Minor.

Minor in CSE (For Students of other departments)

Students of other departments wishing to do a Minor in CSE can choose from courses listed in the table below.

Course Code	Course Title	Credits
CSE 1301 & 1302	Data Structure & Lab	3+1
CSE 2103 & 2104	Object Oriented Programming & Lab	3+1
CSE 2009	Database Management System	3

*Students who want to take CSE 1301 or CSE 2103 must take the corresponding Lab courses.

Capstone Project

The Department of CSE requires each graduating student of BSc in CSE program to complete a three-term long capstone project (4 credits). The term-wise credit distribution will be 1+1+2 = 4. To enroll in the Capstone Project, students must complete at least 105 credits including all the major core courses, math and science courses, Ethics, Language and Communication-related courses. Students must register for the Capstone Project in Term 9 and complete the project in Term 11. Students will have to submit a project report and present their project work before a panel of examiners by the end of Term 11.

Grading will be done based on the report, presentation, continuous assessment, and other assessment methods as decided by the department through 3 semesters. This project is intended to provide a culminating experience that allows a student to demonstrate proficiency in several of the learning outcomes that are stated by his or her degree program. In the Capstone Project, students will apply and cumulate the knowledge and skills that they gathered through theory and lab courses in their program. For this reason, each approved Capstone Project should include and properly address the following components:

- Problem Analysis
- Design and Development of Solutions
- Investigation
- Project Management
- Teamwork
- Requirements Analysis
- Design and Implementation
- Ethics
- Societal and Environmental Impacts
- Communication
- Lifelong Learning
- Modern Tools Usage and Contemporary Issues

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN ELECTRICAL AND ELECTRONIC ENGINEERING

Introduction to the Program

The Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering is focused on producing high-quality graduates with a broad spectrum of innovative and sustainable engineering knowledge and skills motivated by liberal arts aspects such that they become globally competent both in industry and academia. To achieve this goal, the undergraduate EEE program is designed to develop well-rounded professionals with excellent engineering and analytical skills as well as social and ethical values to access a diverse range of engineering professions at local and global arena.

By offering high-quality education through an updated curriculum, the undergraduate EEE program aims to provide the students with the core principles of Electrical and Electronic Engineering built on a solid foundation of mathematics and natural sciences, as well as help students to develop necessary skills on specific topics of interest on major areas including Power, Electronics, Communication and Computer.

The graduates develop proficiency not only to manage, implement, and deploy engineering technologies, but also to develop and invent new technologies to handle real-life challenges and to become enthusiastic for life-long learning. Besides classroom teaching, students are encouraged to gain hand-on experience by conducting experimental work in state-of-the-art laboratories, solving real-life problems in projects, participating in seminar and workshop, going on study tour and through industry attachments.

The engineering knowledge and skills are complemented with several courses from diverse areas like social sciences, psychology, arts, language, business, and sustainable development through the liberal arts curriculum. These allow our graduates to contribute to the engineering profession as well as to devote to the welfare of society by adopting an array of contemporary and innovative service activities through liberal arts perspective.

Vision

The Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering is focused on producing high-quality graduates and researchers with excellent analytical skills and social values to become globally competitive.

Mission

The Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering at ULAB will offer high-quality education through updated curriculum and state-of-the-art laboratory facilities in Electrical and Electronic Engineering on major areas including Electronics, Power, Communication and Computer with a view to producing competent graduates for both industry and academia.

Contribute to the engineering profession and devote to the welfare of society by adopting an array of contemporary and innovative service activities through liberal arts perspective.

Goal of the Program

The goal of the Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering is to produce graduates with a broad spectrum of innovative and sustainable technical knowledge motivated by liberal arts aspects such that they become competent both in industry and academia to handle real-life challenges and to become enthusiastic for life-long learning.

Degree Requirements for Bachelor of Science in EEE

To obtain the BSc degree in EEE, students will have to successfully complete minimum 140 credits. The credit and course requirement for the EEE degree program is shown in the table below.

Additionally, students should read Section (J) of General Academic Policy in this Handbook for the complete set of requirements for earning a bachelor's degree.

General Education (GED) Courses

Categories	Credits	Remarks
General Education Courses (GED)	24	6 Major + 3 Elective
Major Core Courses	67	Includes 4 credit Capstone Project, 1 credit Internship

EEE Concentration Group – 4 theory and 2 lab courses (14 credits)

Students will choose a concentration group consisting of four elective courses. These groups are designed to provide undergraduate specialization in specific topics. The offered groups are:

- I. Electronics Concentration
- II. Communication and Signal Processing Concentration
- III. Power Concentration
- IV. Computer Concentration

EEE concentration group courses can be taken in one of two ways:

1. Students will have to take four elective courses from any one of the concentration groups. Among the four courses, at least two should have corresponding lab courses. If a student chooses elective courses such that more than two courses have corresponding lab courses, the total credits to be completed for the degree will increase accordingly.
2. If any student takes thesis or internship, it will be equivalent to a three (3) credit course without lab course from any concentration group. EEE 4497 – Thesis will be two-semester long (1+2 credits).

Optional/Minor

For EEE Students

EEE students have to complete three (3) courses offered by any departments other than EEE as elective/optional course. If students from EEE want to do minor, then they have to take five (5) courses from a single degree-granting department of the University (as per the guidance of that particular department).

Minor in EEE (For students of other departments)

Students of other departments wishing to take Optional courses or Minor in EEE can choose from courses listed in the table below. EEE 1101 and EEE 1102 are mandatory for students who do not complete fundamental electrical course(s).

Final Year Capstone Project

The Department of EEE requires that each graduating student of BSc in EEE program completes EEE 4196, a three-semester-long final year capstone project (4 credits). Students must register for the Capstone Project in Term 10 and complete the project in Term 12. The distribution of credits will be 1+1+2 = 4.

Students will have to submit a project report and present their project work before a panel of examiners by the end of Term 12. Grading will be done based on the report, presentation, and continuous assessment through 3 semesters. This project is intended to provide a culminating experience that allows students to demonstrate proficiency in several of the learning outcomes that are stated by their degree program.

ULAB RESEARCH CENTERS

Center for Advanced Theory

Director: Professor Salimullah Khan, PhD

The Center for Advanced Theory offers seminars on seminal topics in a number of fields and organizes public lectures on issues of contemporary interest. The Center's accent has been on fields including psychoanalysis and language studies, studies in history and civil society, and theories of media, technology and communication. The Center stresses the exchange of research and writing experience in social and historical research with special reference to South Asia, especially Bangladesh. The focus is on critiques of ideology and ideological apparatuses.

Center for Archaeological Studies

Director: Professor Shahnaj Husne Jahan, PhD

The Center for Archaeological Studies (CAS) undertakes various research projects in the field of art, architecture and archaeology for understanding the political, social, economic and cultural history of Bangladesh. ULAB is the only university in Bangladesh that supports archaeological research by allocating university funds.

In addition to archaeological excavation and research, the Center has successfully employed various strategies at Bhitargarh to create awareness among the local inhabitants in order to stimulate public interest in heritage preservation and community development through sustainable tourism by organizing regular seminars, workshops, discussion forums and training programs.

Center for Bangla Studies

Director:

The aims and objects of the Center for Bangla Studies* (CBS) are to undertake research and publication of various aspects of the Bengali Language and Literature.

Note: The center's original name was Center for Bangla Language and Literature. It was shortened to Center for Bangla Studies in April 2013.*

Dhaka Translation Center

Director: Professor Kaiser Hamidul Haq, PhD

The Dhaka Translation Center (DTC) at ULAB celebrates the rich Bangladeshi literary tradition by encouraging a greater exchange with contemporary world literature. As a first-of-its-kind establishment in Bangladesh, the center answers a long-felt need in our cultural arena for an institution dedicated to the development of the culture and practice of translation. The DTC's primary function is educational, spearheaded by its translation workshops, with complementary fellowship programs, event series, and publishing partnerships.

Center for Enterprise and Society

Director: Sajid Amit

The Center for Enterprise and Society (CES) is Bangladesh's first university-based research center dedicated to conducting research on entrepreneurship and business with a view towards ethical, environmental and social sustainability. The mission of CES is to produce high-quality research and knowledge in order to bridge the theoretical and empirical interface between enterprises and society. Its vision is to enable an entrepreneurial society in Bangladesh, built on ethical foundations.

Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning

Director: Mohamad Tareque Rahman, PhD

The Center for Teaching and Learning (CETL) is a research center responsible for developing and implementing quality teaching practices for the faculty and staff at ULAB. The Center aims to build capacity for ULAB faculty to meet the standards of teaching practices required for a leader in Liberal Arts. In order to enhance the core competencies of our faculty and staff, CETL plays an instrumental role in creating an environment conducive for the pursuance of life-long learning and innovation.

Center for Language Studies

Director:

The Center for Language Studies (CLS) aims to advance understanding of the opportunities and challenges in improving the quality of English language learning and teaching at the University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh. The Center's primary goal is to provide effective English language teaching to all students of ULAB through courses which will focus on the needs of learners and on processes which will best help students to become sufficiently proficient in English, not only to meet their academic requirements, but also the requirements of potential employers. An additional function of the CLS is to provide services to address the professional language needs of the staff and faculty. The Center exemplifies the University's commitment to international standard of education and promoting cross-cultural awareness among students by providing quality courses on English and other foreign languages. The Center also aims to further contribute to the academic mission of the university by creating a platform for generating and disseminating new knowledge in the field of foreign language learning.

Center for Critical and Qualitative Studies

Director: Professor Din M. Sumon Rahman, PhD

Center for Critical and Qualitative Studies (CQS) is a research center jointly operated by University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh and University of Sussex, UK, based at the University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh which offers an interdisciplinary platform for various knowledge disciplines to collaborate, ensure effective knowledge transfer and develop innovative qualitative research tools and communications methods for undertaking a wide range of research and programs leading to high-quality knowledge production. The main objective of this center is to facilitate the development and use of critical thinking in research design and the use of qualitative research methods across a wide variety of academic disciplines.

Center for Sustainable Development

Director: Samiya A Selim, PhD

The Center for Sustainable Development's cutting edge research has a vast circumference covering local and global agendas of natural and social science issues such as climate change, sustainable agriculture, biodiversity, natural resource management, and urban sustainability. The Center's research practices contribute rigorously in strengthening the university's Liberal Arts teaching and attaining the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in Bangladesh. Over and above, teaching remains CSD's core concern as a part of distributing knowledge.

Office of Faculty Research

Director: Professor Din M. Sumon Rahman, PhD

The Office of Faculty Research (OFR) is committed to developing the scholarship of faculty through research. In doing so, OFR hopes to develop an enabling and sustainable research infrastructure at ULAB which is at the core of ULAB's mission, vision, and guiding principles. The main objective of the OFR is to mentor faculty across disciplines on the rigors of writing research proposals, collecting and processing data, writing research reports and publishable research articles in refereed journals from the research projects they undertake with financial support from within and outside the University. The Center is also mandated to offer opportunities to faculty in all academic units to participate in collaborative and interdisciplinary research projects, locally and internationally.

Center for Health, Population and Development

Director:

CHPD is a national, regional, and international center of excellence. It is a space for collaborative research activities involving national and international research bodies and universities on topical health and development issues.

It plans to hold regular seminar series that publicize the work of prominent academics and policymakers. It also intends to organize training workshops, a journal club for junior scholars and students, a working paper series, peer-reviewed publications, student internships for foreign students, and short courses on research methodology, data analysis, leadership for women in development, etc.

ULAB Press

ULAB Press, formerly known as Bengal Lights Books (BLB), is the publishing imprint of the university that aims to publish the highest quality academic and educational resources by faculty and students while engaging with Bangladeshi creative writers. We welcome contributions from both established and upcoming writers.

We also aim to serve the need for publishing world-class translations of works of literary merit from Bengali into English, and into Bengali from English and other languages. We work closely with ULAB's Dhaka Translation Center (DTC) to build literary connections between Bangladesh and the wider world. Our partnerships with like-minded publishers abroad help Bangladeshi writers find a global readership.

ULAB Press officially began its journey in August 2021 by launching the book Commemorating Sheikh Mujib: The Greatest Bengali of the Millennium in bilingual editions.

APPENDICES

Appendix 1: ULAB Sexual Harassment Policy

The University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh (ULAB) strives to provide a place of work and study free of sexual harassment. There is a zero tolerance approach to sexual harassment of any kind. Whenever a case of sexual harassment is reported or observed, ULAB will take all measures possible to stop the harassment with immediate effect, and take necessary disciplinary and legal actions against the offender.

Sexual harassment breaches the core values of ULAB and is a violation of human and workers' rights. Anyone may be subject to this behavior irrespective of age, sex, marital status, education or profession. Therefore, this policy aims to protect every individual at ULAB irrespective of religion, caste, sex, sexual orientation, and ethnic group.

This policy is designed to:

- Provide a mechanism for the protection of persons suffering from sexual harassment
- Create awareness of ULAB's zero tolerance to sexual harassment
- Define procedures for making a complaint, investigation, and disciplinary measures
- Ensure implementation of the policy and related code of conduct.

What is sexual harassment?

Sexual harassment is defined as inappropriate, unwanted and unwelcome conduct or behavior of a sexual nature perceived as harassment by the receiver, which has an adverse effect on the dignity of women and men both inside and, in certain circumstances, outside the University. Any unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and any unseemly sexual conduct could also be construed as sexual harassment.

Sexual harassment occurs when any behavior creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment, even if offence is not intended. Sometimes what is perceived as sexual harassment by one person may not seem so to another person. The defining features, however, are that the behavior is offensive to and unwanted by the recipient and would be regarded as sexual harassment by any reasonable person.

Sexual harassment is best not limited to, any direct or indirect form of the following behaviors:

- Unwanted physical contact or conduct
- Verbal abuse of a sexual nature
- Demeaning, insulting, intimidating or sexually aggressive comments
- Threats or implication that refusal of sexual advances will have an adverse effect on academic or employment conditions
- Demeaning comments or psychological pressure for refusing sexual advances
- Any demand or request to establish a sexual relationship
- Sending sexually explicit or implicit letters, emails, SMS, images, video, social media, etc.
- Displaying pornographic materials or indecent pictures or drawing
- Taking any form of photographs or video recording for blackmailing or defaming someone
- Spreading rumors about sexual issues to humiliate or disgrace someone socially
- Discriminating anyone on grounds of gender or sexual-orientation.

Making a complaint

Personal measures

There are several options for students and staff members to follow in addressing a complaint:

- Informing the harasser that the advances are unwelcome and asking him/her to desist.
- Documenting the experience.
- Informing an official, supervisor, Advisor, Proctor or Student Affairs Office.

Role of management

The official, supervisor, Advisor, Proctor or Student Affairs Office is responsible for taking immediate action in dealing with harassment once a formal, written complaint is made. Confidentiality will be maintained in line with the ULAB Confidentiality Policy.

Investigation Procedures

Steps of the complaint process:

1. A formal, written complaint should be filed as soon as possible after the incident.
2. The Proctor's Office will forward the complaint to the Sexual Harassment Committee.
 - One member of the Proctor's Office will sit on the Sexual Harassment Committee.
 - At least two members of the Sexual Harassment Committee should be women.
3. The Sexual Harassment Committee will investigate and refer their findings to the Disciplinary Committee.
4. The Disciplinary Committee will initiate a hearing and may seek legal advice as necessary.
5. The Student Affairs Office will maintain a liaison with the ULAB student(s) involved, and sit with the student(s) during Disciplinary Committee hearings. Investigation Guidelines would be the following:
 - In minor incidents, the Proctor's Office can dispose of the matter summarily with the consent of both parties;
 - In all other cases the Sexual Harassment Committee will investigate the matter;
 - The Committee will first discuss/analyze the written complaint;
 - The Committee can call the complainant for meeting for clarification/ further evidence;
 - The offender can be called by the Committee for a hearing and record his version of the incident/allegation;
 - The Committee can seek legal advice if and when required;
 - The Committee will take decision on the basis of the views of majority;
 - The Committee can refer the matter to the Disciplinary Committee at any point of the investigation;
 - In case of any false or frivolous complaint, the Committee can recommend disciplinary action/measures against the complainant.

Malicious, false or frivolous accusations

An accuser whose allegations are found to be both false and brought with malicious intent will be subject to disciplinary action.

Retaliation

No student, employee, applicant for employment, or member of the public shall be subject to restraint, interference, coercion or reprisal for action taken in good faith to seek advice concerning a sexual harassment/assault, to file a sexual harassment/assault grievance, or to serve as a witness or a panel member in the investigation of a sexual harassment/assault grievance.

Resolving a complaint

The investigation committee will complete the investigation within 2 (two) weeks of receiving the complaint, and will communicate the outcome to the complainant and the accused.

If there is insufficient evidence to substantiate the complaint, there will be no further action, but the staff or student will be supported by the University to report any future incidences of harassment or retaliation.

If the allegations are substantiated, disciplinary measures will be taken. Further support and advice, if acceded, will be made available to the complainant and harasser once the investigation is complete.

Disciplinary measures

On completion of disciplinary processes, depending on the seriousness of the incident the disciplinary measures may include:

- Written warning
- Demotion
- Transfer
- Suspension
- Dismissal
- Expulsion
- Referral to external legal authorities

The complaint and the results of the investigation will be recorded in the personal files of the complainant and the alleged harasser.

The ULAB Commitment

ULAB strives to ensure a campus culture that is free from sexual harassment. We will continue our commitment to prevent any form of sexual harassment by implementing four general principles:

1. Notifying individuals of conduct that is prohibited
2. Ensuring that all faculty, staff and students are aware of their rights
3. Informing officials about the proper way to address complaints of violations of this policy
4. Helping educate the faculty, staff and students about the problems this policy addresses

Training and Education

The Sexual Harassment Policy will be introduced during student, staff, and faculty orientations. Sexual harassment/sexual assault prevention training, workshops, and professional development seminars will be made available at no cost to all staff and students.

Information Dissemination

Copies of the Sexual Harassment Policy will be available in the Student Affairs Office, Proctor's Office, the Registrar's Office and on the ULAB Website. Students have the right to view the policy upon request.

Appendix 2: ULAB Bullying Policy

Introduction

ULAB will not tolerate bullying by or of any ULAB employee or student. The purpose of this document is to promote the development of a working and learning environment where bullying is unacceptable; individuals have a reassurance that their complaints will be handled as confidentially as practicable. ULAB will deal with such complaints fairly and systematically.

Commitment

ULAB welcomes diversity and believes that every student has a right to work and study in an environment which encourages harmonious relationships.

Allegations of bullying will be treated very seriously by ULAB and could result in disciplinary action. ULAB will ensure that any student raising a concern under this policy will not be victimized as a result.

What is bullying?

Bullying can include but is not limited to the following list of behavior:

- Repeatedly ignoring a colleague or subjecting them to unwelcome attention intimidation, humiliation, ridicule or offence.
- Physical threats or violence
- Exercise of power over another person through negative acts or behavior that undermine him/her personally and/or academically.
- Threatening, insulting, abusing, disparaging or intimidating behavior which places inappropriate pressure on the victim or has the effect of isolating or excluding them.
- Shouting, sarcasm, derogatory remarks concerning academic performance or constant criticism.

Cyber Bullying

Cyber Bullying is “the use of electronic communication to bully a person, typically by sending messages of an intimidating or threatening nature.” It falls under this policy if the bullying is between students, and occurs on the ULAB premises OR adversely affect the safety and well-being of student while in university.

Bullying is to be distinguished from vigorous academic debate or the actions of a teacher or supervisor making reasonable, but perhaps unpopular, requests of his/her students.

Bullying may not always be intentional but is not acceptable, whether intentional or not.

Making a complaint

Any ULAB employee or student who considers themselves to have been the subject of bullying has the right to be listened to and to be given informed advice on how the matter may be resolved.

Any ULAB employee or student who feels that they are the subject of bullying should try to make a note of incidents, dates, times and any witnesses, for future reference.

A written complaint must be filed within 15 (fifteen) days of the event.

Should bullying occur in a group situation, all members of the group are responsible for the bullying.

There are several options for a ULAB employee or student to follow in addressing a complaint:

- Informing the harasser that the advances are unwelcome and asking him/her to stop.
- Documenting the experience.
- Informing a staff member, supervisor, advisor or proctor or student affairs office.

Confidentiality will be maintained in line with the ULAB Confidentiality Policy.

Investigating a formal complaint

If the incident is minor in nature the matter will be dealt with by the proctors. In all other cases ULAB proctors will investigate the complaint and then refer the complaint to the disciplinary committee.

The proctors will:

- Refer both the offender and complainant to the student affairs office
- Discuss/analyze the written complaint
- Call upon the complainant for meeting for clarification/further evidence
- Call the offenders to record his/her version of the incident/allegation
- Take decisions whether or not the matter needs to go to the disciplinary committee

The disciplinary committee will:

- Review the evidence
- Take decision on the basis of the views of majority
- In case of any false complaint, recommend disciplinary action/measures against the complainant

ULAB employees and students have the right to request representation in any meeting or disciplinary hearing. The Student Affairs Office is responsible for ensuring this support available for students. The representation is optional throughout the investigation, but compulsory in disciplinary hearings.

Malicious and false accusations

A grievant whose allegations are found to be both false and brought with malicious intent will be subject to disciplinary action which may include, but is not limited to:

- Written warning
- Suspension
- Expulsion

Resolving a complaint

The investigation committee will complete the investigation within 1 (one) month of receiving the complaint, and will communicate the outcome to the complainant and the accused. If the allegations are substantiated, disciplinary measures will be taken.

Further support and advice will be made available to the complainant and harasser once the investigation is complete. Information can be found at: <https://sao.ulab.edu.bd/>

Disciplinary measures

On completion of disciplinary processes, depending on the seriousness of the incident, the disciplinary measures may include:

- Written warning
- Suspension
- Expulsion

The complaint and the results of the investigation will be recorded in the personal files of the complainant and the alleged harasser.

Appendix 3: Understanding and Avoiding Plagiarism

By: Daniel Sabet

Plagiarism is often defined as, ‘The act of passing off as one’s own the ideas or writings of another.’ [emphasis added]¹ Unfortunately, plagiarism is common in Bangladeshi institutions of higher learning. Not only are students ‘stealing’ the ideas and words of others, but perhaps more importantly, they are failing to develop their own ideas and improve their own writing abilities.

1. What is plagiarism?

Consider the following original text taken from: Shariful Islam. 2011. ‘Steps taken not to follow through.’ The Daily Star: April 19.

At least 10 steps taken by the government in the last two and a half years to improve the capital’s traffic situation and road safety had fizzled out within a few days. The measures came to nothing because they were ill-conceived in the first place. The slackness of the implementing agencies too did not help things either, experts observe. The same people who follow traffic rules in Dhaka cantonment area do the opposite elsewhere in the city. It is because the cantonment authorities strictly enforce the rules while traffic police take little action against the lawbreakers for fear of backlash from influential people or for bribe, point out the experts.

Students asked to write a paper on the traffic situation in Dhaka might be tempted to simply copy and paste such statements into their papers. This is the clearest example of plagiarism; however, many students believe that if they cite the source and alter the wording of the text they will have avoided plagiarism. This is incorrect. The following paragraph is also an example of plagiarism.

Over the last few days, at least 10 steps taken by the government in the last two and a half years to improve the capital’s traffic situation and road safety have fizzled out. Because they were poorly conceived, the measures came to little. Experts observe that the slackness of the implementing agencies has not helped things either. Why do the same people who follow traffic rules in Dhaka cantonment area do the opposite elsewhere in the city? The reason is because the cantonment authorities strictly enforce the rules while traffic police in the rest of the city take little action against the lawbreakers for fear of backlash from influential people or for bribe, point out the experts (Islam 2011).

By adding the citation, the student writer is now giving credit to the original author for the ideas contained in the paragraph, but the student writer is still misappropriating the original author’s words. The solution to this problem is to ‘paraphrase,’ or re-write the author’s ideas in the student’s own words. The following would be an acceptable paraphrase:

According to Shariful Islam (2011), a number of recent governmental initiatives designed to reduce Dhaka’s traffic problems have not been successfully implemented. Much of the problem appears to be one of enforcement. Islam (2011) argues that this is evident when we compare the far more orderly traffic situation in the military cantonment with the chaos found in the rest of the city.

Here the writer has both paraphrased and cited the original work. Another option would be to ‘quote’ the original author. It would, however, be inappropriate to simply place the original paragraph in quotation marks. Quotes should be used selectively and are best used when paraphrasing is not an option or to provide support to a student writer’s argument. The following would be an acceptable use of quotes.

A number of recent governmental initiatives designed to reduce Dhaka’s traffic problems have not been successfully implemented (Islam 2011). There are many reasons why these measures failed to reduce traffic congestion. First, in many cases the policies were poorly designed. As Islam (2011) argues, ‘The measures came to nothing because they were ill-conceived in the first place.’

1 Georgetown University Honor Pledge: <https://bulletin.georgetown.edu/regulations/honor/>

2. The Honor Pledge

This term, freshers signed an Honor Pledge committing themselves to academic integrity. By itself, such a pledge risks being mere words; however, if taken seriously by faculty, it can be an important tool to address problems of plagiarism and academic misconduct. The text is as follows:

Honor pledge²

In pursuit of the high ideals and rigorous standards of academic life, I _____ commit myself to be honest in every academic endeavor, to conduct myself honorably, and to not engage in cheating, plagiarism, or the use of false data. I understand the meaning of this pledge and I recognize that failing to uphold the pledge will result in a failing grade.

Signature: _____

Date: _____

Definitions

- Cheating is defined as: ‘The use or attempted use of unauthorized materials, information, study aids, or unauthorized collaboration on in-class examinations, take-home examinations, or other academic exercises.’
- Plagiarism is defined as: ‘The act of passing off as one’s own the ideas or writings of another.’
- False data are ‘data that have been fabricated, altered or contrived in such a way as to be deliberately misleading.’

3. ULAB policy

The Student Handbook states the following:

Cheating, presentation of somebody else’s work as own, preparing work to be used for some body’s works, knowingly furnishing false information about academic matters to an university official are an act of academic dishonesty.

In the case of academic dishonesty, the faculty member or the Chairperson, if the faculty member refers the case to him, shall adjudicate the matter in an informal hearing of the student. If the student accepts responsibility, failing grade (F) may be assigned for the assignment, exam, quiz, etc., or course for which or in connection with which violation occurred. If the student does not accept responsibility for the violation, the case should be referred with a written complaint to the Committee [Disciplinary Committee]. The faculty member may also directly make the written complaint to the Chairperson of the Committee. The latter may impose other sanctions in addition to the Failing Grade (F).³

Appendix 4: Confidentiality Policy

The ULAB Confidentiality Policy is meant to safeguard confidential and proprietary information of students and staff collected and maintained by ULAB.

Information Collection, Storage and Use

ULAB will only collect and maintain personal information about a student or staff for administrative purposes and will store all information with utmost sensitivity, care and caution.

All information stored virtually and on paper will be stored with strict security, protected by locks and passwords accessible only by the Registrar's Office, Proctor's Office, and Student Affairs Office (for student information) or the HR office (staff information). Individual students' data will also be accessible by their faculty advisors.

ULAB will use personal information only:

- for the purpose for which the information was collected or compiled or for a use consistent with that purpose
- with the written consent of the individual (student or staff)

Access and disclosure of information

- Only the Registrar's Office, Proctor's Office, Student Affairs Office, Faculty Advisor, and the student him/herself are authorized to access a student's records.
- Only the Registrar's Office and the student him/herself are authorized to release a student's records.
- The HR's office is the only office authorized to release employees information when and where needed, unless a signed document exists that says otherwise.
- In case of a deceased student/staff, information will be disclosed only to the person mentioned as emergency contact in their file.
- Student/staff information will be disclosed to government and law enforcement officials if and when needed.

Disposal of information

Student/staff personal information that is disposed of will follow the best practices for confidential shredding and/or electronic data deletion.

Student Advising and Counseling Confidentiality

The advising and counseling service at the ULAB Student Affairs Office (SAO) is a confidential service and is guided by an ethical framework. The advising and counseling staffs is required to maintain strict adherence to our confidentiality and ethical framework. Staff will not discuss details of the advising and counseling sessions without the express written and verbal permission of the student.

In exceptional circumstances we may have to disclose information but we would make every effort to do this with the student's knowledge and agreement. These exceptions are:

- Where there is risk of harm to yourself or others;
- If the advisor and/or counsellor is subpoenaed or summoned as a witness in a Court of Law.

The factual data you give to the counsellor/SAO and the dates on which you attend for counseling are stored anonymously in order to compile statistics on the use of the service. This is in order for us to evaluate the services we are providing for our students.

The advisor and/or counsellor may also keep notes on meetings to help him/her in their work with each individual. These are kept completely separate from the university student record system, and are stored in a secure facility. Students will be assigned an anonymous number which is not associated with their Student ID. Advisors and counsellors adhere to strict principles of anonymity in their record keeping.
